PREPARING TO START ON RETURN TRIP TO GERMANY IN 10 DAYS

Captain of the Deutschland Confident His Vessel Will be Permitted to Clear.

ANOTHER SHIP ON THE WAY

Eight Other Ships of the Deutschland Type Are Now Under Construction at Kiel.

EXPERTS EXAMINE VESSEL

Find No Evidence to Place It in Class With a Warship.

Baltimore, July 11. — Confident that the efforts of the diplomatic representatives of the Entente Allies to have his vessel classed as a warship and interned will prove unavailing, Captain Paul Koenig, master of the German submarine Deutschland, is preparing to leave port on his return voyage within ten days.

Expresses Satisfaction.

Captain Koenig expressed satisfaction tonight but no surprise when informed that three American naval officers, who inspected the Deutschland today to determine her status, had reported in effect that not only was she an unarmed merchant vessel now, but was so constructed that she could not be converted into a war craft without virtually being re-built. Captain Koenig said he could only reiterate that the Deutschland, like other submarines built or building for Germany's new under sea merchant fleet, was designed solely as a freight carrier.

Eight Other Vessels.

At least eight of these vessels, it was authoritatively learned here today, now are building at Kiel, and with these in addition to the Deutschland and the Bremen, already en route for an American port, Germany expects, in a measure, to re-establish her lost commerce and mail communication with the rest of the world. The view here is that no such project would have been undertaken had not the German interests behind it been thoroughly satisfied that the status of the vessels was unquestionable.

The possibility that the Deutschland might be pierced for torpedo tubes was the chief concern of the American naval officers, headed by Capt. C. F. Hughes, who inspected the forward part of the vessel's hull, where torpedo tubes naturally would be located, revealed, it was learned, that the structure was not substantial enough to contain them. Before the Deutschland could be armed like a German naval submarine, entire reconstruction forward would be necessary.

Neither Guns Nor Emplacements.

The possibility that guns could be mounted on her superstructures was understood to have been considered also But there was neither guns nor emplacements in evidence.

Captain Hughes and his associates were given the entire freedom of the ship. The Deutschland's commander was not present during the examination as Collector of the Port Ryan, who had charge of the examination, failed to notify him that the navy officers were coming. When they arrived at the pier of the Deutschland in a tug, Captain Koenig was at the offices of his agents and the subordinate officer in command declined to allow the collector to bring his party aboard without the consent of his superior. This, Captain Koenig freely gave when informed by telephone.

Proud of His Vessel.

Captain Hughes, and his assistants, Lieutenant J. O. Fisher, of the Bureau of Steam Engineering and Naval Constructor Herbert S. Howard, spent more than two hours in the vessel. Captain Hughes declined to discuss what he had seen but said that not only did the young officer who escorted them through the boat freely answer all question, but even volunteered information.

"He was proud of his vessel and I do not blame," said Captain Hughes. "It is a wonderful piece of mechanism and a monument to German inventive genius."

If the Deutschlad has any new devices of mechanism which are new in submarine construction, Captain Hughes now knows them. He would not say if any such existed, but made clear in this connection that everything he wanted to know was frankly explained. He had no instructions or intention, he said, to report any knowledge he may have gained.

Deputy Surveyor Hayward, one of the party, said that the American experts seemed to be amazed at what they saw.

"It was all Greek to me," said Mr. Hayward, "but the navy engineers appeared almost dumb founded. They were highly enthusiastic and were continually ejaculating."

Arises to Patriotic Airs.

Captain Koenig meanwhile was taking luncheon at a local hotel with a party of officials of the North German Lloyd and German-Americans of local prominence. He sat at the head of the table, was on his feet instantly when the orchestra played "Die Wacht Am Rhie," and arose no less quickly when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played as the next selection.

The Deutschland today began unloading her cargo of dyestuffs. This task probably will be completed on Thursday after which she will mefin

VOLUNTEER TROOPS RETURN TO HOMES

Four Thousand Mexican Soldiers in Sonora Demobilized by General Calles' Order.

TO RELEASE STILL OTHERS

His Proclamation Gives Signal for the Exodus of American Mining and Cattle Men to Return to Mexican Interior.

Douglas, Ariz., July 11.—The issuance of a proclamation by General Calles, military commander of Sonora, today, ordering all volunteer soldiers to return to their homes, was the signal for the beginning of an exodus of American mining and cattle men from the border district. Twenty or more left Douglass for points in the interior of Sonora during the day.

General Calles announced that he had demobilized 4,000 volunteer cavalrymen who had been encamped for several weeks in Fronteras, Cuchuta and Nacozari. Approximately the same number remain to be demobilized in Cananea, Magdalena and Hermosillo, he said.

The southward movement of regular troops from border concentration points was also started today. Eight thousand men under Generals Martinez and Estrada, have been entraining for the Yaqui river valley, according to reports at General Calles' headquarters.

The managers of the large mining companies of Sonora have made no positive announcements about the time their foreign employes will return to Mexico, saying it would be impossible to operate on anything like a normal basis until the embargo on explosives has been raised or modified.

It is understood here the embargo question has been taken up with the State Department in Washington.

DE FACTO TROOPS DEFEAT TWO BANDS OF VILLISTAS

Chihuahua City, Mex., July 11—Two Villa bands attacked Carranza garrisons today at Rosario and Parral, but in both cases were beaten off with losses, according to official reports of General Trevino. From Rosario the bandits were driven south toward the Durango line by government troops under General Gacito and Hernandez.

Other reports to General Trevino indicated that a scouting patrol from Parral had encountered one of the small

FORESTRY CONGRESS IN SESSION AT ASHEVILLE

Governor Craig and Mayor Rankin Welcome the Visitors

Representatives From Majority of Southern States and of Several Kindred Organizations of the East Present.

Asheville, N. C., July 11.—With an attendance representing the majority of Southern states and several kindred organizations of the East, the Southern Forestry Congress held its opening session here this morning, the addresses of welcome being delivered by Governor Locke Craig and Mayor J. E. Rankin. Meeting with the Southern Forestry Congress are the American Forestry Association, the Association of Eastern Foresters, the Society of American Foresters, the North Carolina Forestry Association, the North Carolina Pine Assosiation and the Appalachian Park Association.

In the course of his address Governor Craig declared that the forests belong to the people; that legislation should regulate the cutting of timber and that the owners should be compensated for any loss they may sustain.

The first address of the day was delivered by Henry S. Graves, chief of the United States Forestry Service, who stated that the first legislation relating to forestry was in the interest of National Defense, Congress in 1779 having appropriated $200,000 to buy Florida live oak forests for ship building purposes.

Edmond Seymour, president of the American Bison Society, discussed the re-establishment of big game in the Southern Appalachian mountains. The mountains of the Appalachian range, said the speaker, are suitable for buffalo.

Other speakers included Dr. T. S. Palmer, chief of the United States Biological Survey; Verne Rhodes, Forest supervisor of Pisgah National Forest; George S. Powell, secretary of the Appalachian Park Association; R. S. Maddox, forester of the Tennessee Biological Survey; F. W. Besley, state forester of Maryland; Henry W. Hardtner, president of the Urania Lumber Association of Louisiana, and George Lathrop Pack, of Cleveland, president of the American Forestry Association.

UNDERSEA CRAFT A MERCHANT SHIP

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D.C.

This ... last as Final Decision ... Department, as to the Deutschland.

IS EXAMINED BY EXPERTS

Formal Representations Made by the British and French Embassies That the Vessel is a "Potential Warship."

Washington, July 11.—Final decision by the State Department that the German submarine Deutschland is a merchant ship, entitled to all privileges accorded under international law to a belligerent owned freighter, was forecast tonight by receipt of preliminary reports on an inspection of the underwater liner at Baltimore by naval officers and Treasury officials.

Collector Ryan, of Baltimore, telegraphed the Treasury Department that after a thorough examination of the boat by himself and Capt. C. F. Hughes, appointed by the Navy Department to assist, he adhered to his previous opinion that the vessel is an unarmed merchantman, incapable of conversion for warlike purposes "without extensive structural changes." A detailed report will be submitted tomorrow.

Department officials tonight believed that a prima facie case tending to prove that the Deutschland is a peaceful and unarmed merchantman had been established.

Formal representations have been made by the British and French embassies holding that the submarine is a "potential warship" not entitled to the freedom of American ports and subject to attack at sight on the high seas. These contentions will be considered in connection with the report of the Federal investigators.

Acting Secretary Polk said tonight the Allied diplomats would be informed of the result only if they made inquiry.

The duty now of the United States, officials explained, is to see that no structural changes are made during the Deutschland's stay in American waters which would fit her for hostile purposes. But should the ruling of the Navy and Treasury investigators be sustained the Deutschland, like any other merchantman, would have the right to clear with cargo, including guns, munitions or German reservists.

Reports that the State Department had advance notice of the Deutschland's trip are denied.

The State Department, it was officially declared, will not concern itself with reported objections by Canadian nickel interests to exportation of nickel on the Deutschland. Agreements of American purchasers of Canadian nickel not to re-export the metal, Acting Secretary Polk explained, were purely private.

ARGUMENTS UNDER WAY.

State's Attorney in Orpet Case Takes Up Testimony in Detail.

Waukegan, Ill., July 11.—The second of the arguments for the prosecution in the trial of William H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, Lake Forest high school girl, was begun today by Ralph J. Dady, state's attorney. Following Mr. Dady will be addresses by Orpet's other attorneys, James H. Wilkerson and Ralph H. Potter.

The state's attorney took up in detail the testimony which he said, proved that the girl had no motive for suicide and that when she entered Helm's woods with Orpet on February 9 she fully expected to come out alive.

It is believed that arguments will not be finished before the end of the week.

Nashville, Tenn., July 11.—An epidemic of measles has broken out in the state mobilization camp and tonight one battalion of the Third infantry is under quarantine. Officers fear that the epidemic may interfere with their immediate departure for the border.

BLOCKADER FIRES NINE SHOTS INTO WAKE POSSE

But is Fatally Shot in Return and Captured.

Raleigh Planning Flower Show—City's "Surf" Polluted—Restraining Order Issued—New Corporations Chartered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 11.—Ed Hammond, Jr., desperate blockader, fired nine times with an automatic Colts revolver into United States revenue raiders, three of them taking effect in Posseman Frank Knight, and then he in turn was probably fatally shot, a shot by one of the revenue officers having taken effect in his head, just above the right eye.

The raiders were led by J. P. Stell, of Raleigh, and the raid was being made near Kennebeck, this county. The raiders rushed suddenly upon the blockader, who was running the still full blast. The officers expected Hammond to run, but he seized a big automatic revolver and fired nine shots before he could be disarmed. Frank Knight, of the raiding party, received flesh wounds in both arms and in his thigh, the latter being probably the

DEAD AND MISSING IN HURRICANE ARE ABOUT 85 PERSONS

Damage to Property Ranges from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 in Stricken Districts.

FLOOD WATERS RECEDING

With the Disturbance Now Over Illinois, it is Believed the Worst Has Passed.

The Southern floods are receding with the passing northward of the tropical hurricane which struck the gulf coast last Wednesday, leaving a list of dead and missing of approximately 85 persons and property damage of from seven to ten million dollars. A Weather Bureau announcement that what remains of the disturbance is now over Illinois, leads to the belief that the worst has been told of the disastrous weather conditions which have gripped the South for the last six days.

Rains that fell steadily for more than 112 hours have ceased throughout Western North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, and Alabama and rivers and small streams that broke over their banks and flooded thousands of acres of farm lands are subsiding. Persons driven from their homes in the Chattahoochee and Ocumulgee lowlands of Georgia are returning and conditions in the Tennessee river valleys are almost normal.

French Broad Falling.

The French Broad river which overflowed in Buncombe, Henderson and Transylvania counties, North Carolina, is falling. In Mississippi small streams swollen by the continued downpour are again in their banks.

Central Alabama, of all the flooded sections failed to show decided improvement. The Alabama river is still rising at Montgomery and Selma and the latter town is reported without lights. Water covers a part of North Montgomery and many negroes have been forced to leave their homes. Four miles north of Montgomery the Tallapoosa backwaters are over the state farm and a hundred convicts are marooned on a small section of dry land.

The overflow is receding from the streets of Wetumpka, where the Coosa river reached the flood stage several days ago. The Autuga creek, which covered the streets of Prattville, is at a stand.

2,000 Families Destitute.

Half the population of Selma is doing relief work among the 2,000 families made destitute in that region by the overflowing of the Alabama and Cahaba rivers.

Communication has been re-established with Brewton, Ala., which has been isolated since last Wednesday. Reports say Escambia county was literally inundated for four days by the overflow of the Escambia river and crops in that section were virtually ruined. Every piece of property in Brewton was damaged.

Mobile suffered property damage of $1,200,000 in the hurricane, according to conservative estimates furnished by business men there. The loss was principally to shipping, merchandise, telephone and telegraph companies and railroads. No lives were lost in the city proper.

Commissioner of Agriculture Wade at Montgomery today estimated that the damage to growing crops in Alabama on account of the floods and wind storms would be not less than from $5,600,000 to $7,000,000. No estimates have been made from other states but Georgia and Mississippi crops are known to have suffered severely.

The safe arrival at Biloxi today of three schooners carrying 12 men was offset by news from Mobile of the finding of several bodies off the coast and that some small craft have not been accounted for.

The known death list throughout the storm are approximately 30 persons about equally divided between those drowned in the Gulf and those killed by lightning or drowned in the interior of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee. The missing are all sailors from ships long overdue at gulf ports and known to have been in the path of Wednesday's gale.

STATE TROOPS ARE ON THE WAY HOME

Four Companies, in Wilmington Since Saturday Morning, Departed Last Midnight.

CONDITIONS ARE NORMAL

Found Stay in Seaside City Pleasant. County to Pay Expense—Men Well Behaved—Sheriff Makes Statement.

The four companies of Coast Artillery, North Carolina National Guard, which have been on duty in Wilmington since Saturday morning during the trained last night near Front and Castle of the Tidewater Power Company, entrained last night at Front and Castle streets on a special train, which pulled out promptly at 11:20 o'clock for Charlotte via Goldsboro. The special consisted of five day coaches and a baggage car.

Conditions in Wilmington assumed their normal order yesterday with the return of the striking motormen and conductors to their work, following the agreement reached Monday night through the efforts of the Citizens' committee, the settlement being upon the basis proposed by Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, in which he stated his willingness to take back all the former employes with the exception of ten men and to use his best efforts to give the latter places within 30 days. The cars were running as usual on schedule time, both on the city lines and the line to Wrightsville Beach.

In transferring the State troops from Wilmington, Major E. D. Kuykendall acted in accordance with orders received yesterday afternoon from the Adjutant General's office. The companies comprised about 300 men from Charlotte, Greensboro, Raleigh and Salisbury, and they were under the command of Major Kuykendall, of Greensboro.

When seen by a representative of The Star just before the special left, Major Kuykendall stated that the officers and men had found their stay here very pleasant in spite of the guard duty and that they had all been well cared for. He added that they had come here simply to uphold the law, and he was extremely glad that it was not necessary to use force.

County to Pay Expense.

Major Kuykendall was asked as to whether or not the county would not have to stand the expense of the mobilization of the troops here in aid of the civil authorities, and replied that it would. He said: "The law provides that the county must bear the expense, and my instructions were to present the bill to New Hanover county." Just how much it would aggregate, he said he did not yet know. It is conservatively estimated, however, that it will be in excess of $500 a day, exclusive of the transportation charges.

The conduct of the troops while in Wilmington has been commented upon most favorably. Members of the Coast Artillery Corps of the State have the reputation of being the best drilled and most gentlemanly guardsmen of the State troops. The whole corps with the exception of one company was in Wilmington, and they proved no exception to the rule. Not a single one of the 300 men of the corps, of which the Wilmington Light Infantry is a part, was reported for drinking or disorderly conduct of any kind. In view of their youth and high spirits incident to youth, this fact is regarded as a thing of which the officers and men have a right to be proud. Although many residents of the city regarded the presence of the troops here as unnecessary, towards the individual officers and men they had only the kindliest feelings.

In moving the troops from Wilmington, Major Kuykendall acted under the orders from the Adjutant General's office in Raleigh. Following advices from

ASKS MONEY TO FIGHT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Secretary McAdoo Requests Congress to Appropriate $135,000.

Would Be Used by the Public Health Service to Check Epidemic in New York and Prevent Its Spread Elsewhere.

Washington, July 11.—Secretary McAdoo today asked Congress to appropriate $135,000 for the public health service to aid in the fight against the infantile paralysis epidemic in New York and to prevent its spread to other states.

Of the sum asked for $50,000 is to be used for the expenses of surgeons of the service in New York and the remainder to prevent inter-state spread of the disease. The estimate of the amount needed was reached after several conferences between officers of the public health service and Assistant Secretary Newton and was approved by President Wilson.

Dr. W. C. Rucker, in active charge of the fight against the epidemic, believes it will cost about $10,000 a month for the work of the service alone.

President Wilson today signed the Siegel resolution permitting the use of hospital facilities at the Ellys Island Immigration Station for the New York victims of infantile paralysis.

BRITISH HAVE TAKEN CONTALMAISON NORTH OF THE SOMME RIVER

GERMAN FIRST LINE DEFENSE CAPTURED

British, After Ten Days' Continuous Fighting, Advance Along Front of Eight Miles.

TO DEPTH OF 4,000 YARDS

French Forces Under General Foch Now Occupy Dominating Hills Around Peronne—Strengthen Positions at LaMaisonette.

The British gains in the battle of the Somme, after ten days' continuous fighting, cover a front of nearly eight miles and include the entire German first system of defense, according to the official report by General Haig, the British commander-in-chief on the French front. This advance includes a number of small towns or villages and positions which are considered of great strategic importance. The British advance extended into the German positions for a depth of 2,000 to 4,000 yards.

French Gain Near Peronne.

At the same time the French army under General Foch has moved up in the southern section of the Somme until it now holds the dominating hills around Peronne, a town which has been strongly foritfied by the Germans and the possession of which they are likely to contest with the utmost determination.

The British have retaken Contalmaison and again in control of nearly the entire extent of Trones wood and Mametz wood. There has been desperate fighting in both of these sectors for several days past.

The French along the Somme carried out some minor detached operations which enabled them to strengthen their position at LeMaisonette, and apparently they are waiting for the British to straighten out their line before making the attempt to drive the Germans out of Peronne.

In this great battle, about 23,000 prisoners have been taken by the Franco-British forces, of whom the British announce they have captured 7,500.

Germans Gain at Verdun.

In the Verdun sector, the Germans have succeeded in gaining a foothold in the Damloup battery and in the French line in the Fumin wood on the right bank of the Meuse. At other points the Germans are carrying out a strong offensive.

On the Russian front the Stokhod

Greater Part of Mametz Wood and the Whole of Trones Wood Have Been Captured.

RUSSIANS NEARING KOVEL

Prisoners Taken by Russians and Anglo-French in Present Drives Total 293,620.

HUNDREDS OF GUNS SEIZED

Italian Pressure Causes Recall of Austrian Troops.

London, July 11.—After a prolonged and bitter struggle, the British have captured the town of Contalmaison, north of the Somme river, and are now holding it against German counter attacks. The greater part of the Mametz wood is in possession of the British, who have also recaptured nearly the whole of the Trones wood.

On the eastern front the Germans admit the fighting on the Stokhod line is approaching Kovel on both sides of the railway, but they claim the Russians have been driven back near Huleviche.

Heavy Fighting on All Fronts

Today's news told of heavy fighting on all fronts, with the Allies making substantial progress in most places. A striking illustration of the difference in the relative positions of the Allied and Teutonic forces and of the remarkable change from the monotonous defensive trench warfare which characterized the Allied operations for so many weary months until the present summer, is found in the number of prisoners and guns taken. These for the battle of the Somme amount to 22,-22,000 prisoners and 104 guns captured from the Germans while the official figures for the Russian General Brussiloff's drive to the 10th of July are 271,620 prisoners, 812 guns and 866 machine guns.

The importance the Germans have attached to the Contalmaison position may be measured by the fact that they recently threw the Prussian guards into the fighting at this point.

German Offensive Halted.

It is now clear that the Russian drive in the direction of Kovel has brought the German offensive at Lutsk to a standstill, and, according to the Russian communication, the Germans have brought up strong reinforcements to defend the Stokhod line and Kovel. General Brussiloff, however, now has the impassable Pinsk marshes covering his right flank and is in a position to outflank the German defense of Kovel. The capture of 34,000 prisoners by the Russians in the Stokhod and Galician battles from July 4 to July 8 seems to indicate that the Germans have been unable to throw in reinforcements in sufficient strength to stem the Russian advance.

According to a report from Berne, Switzerland, the Austrians are hurriedly entrenching the landstrum from Serbia and Montenegro in an attempt to hold back the Russians. The difficulties confronting the Central Powers, in meeting the all round attack, are indicated in the Italian official statement tonight in which it is stated that the Austrians have been obliged to recall to the Italian front troops which were about to be sent to the eastern front.

FRANCO-BRITISH ATTACKS FAIL TO GAIN POSITIONS

Berlin, via London, July 11.—Repeated attacks by the French and British troops on the Somme front have failed to win the German positions against which they are directed, says the war office announcement of today. It follows:

"Between the Ancre and the Somme the British launched attacks with strong forces during the afternoon and night. Over a wide front on both sides of the Bapaume-Albert road and northwest of this road they were shot down before the attack came to close fighting. East of the road stubborn fighting developed on the southern fringe of the village of Contalmaison and on the fringe of Mametz wood.

"Repeated attacks by the enemy to re-capture Trones wood failed with heavy and sanguinary losses. He also lost 100 prisoners.

"South of the Somme a vigorous attack by French black troops against LaMaisonette height was met by an overpowering fire. The few colored troops which penetrated our lines fell at the point of German bayonets or were taken prisoner.

"As a result of counter attacks yesterday against Barleux five officers and 147 men remained in our hands. There was important artillery fighting throughout the whole sector. Our curtain of fire checked all attempts by the enemy to attain between Belloy and Hardecourt.

"Very lively artillery duels occurred in the region of the Meuse (Verdun front). On the remainder of the front there was increased artillery action at places. The enemy made several unsuccessful gas attacks. Patrol and reconnoitering detachments of our enemies were very inactive and were repulsed everywhere. Near Leintrey, in

WANTS LARGE ATTENDANCE

Postmaster H. McL. Green Writes North Carolina Postmasters Urging Them to Go to Convention.

Postmaster H. McL. Green, president of the North Carolina Postmasters' Association and State Executive committeeman for the National Association, has sent out letters to all the postmasters of the first class offices in the State, calling attention to the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters to be held in Washington, July 18 to 21, pointing out the advantages both in the way of pleasure and increased efficiency that will accrue to them from attendance at the convention. Postmaster Green is seeking to secure a large attendance from this State and hopes that every postmaster who can possibly do so, will make it a point to go.

The Raleigh Hotel has been selected as headquarters for the convention. President Wilson will receive the postmasters, their wives and guests at a reception to be held at the White House.

The President of the United States, the Postmaster General and his four assistants will be at the banquet, which will be given at the Raleigh Hotel. In addition to these officials it is likely that the Vice President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and several others high in official life will be present. This banquet will be for men only. A supper will be arranged for the ladies of the party.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Hon. Louis Brownlow, commissioner of the District of Columbia. The chamber of commerce is planning a trip to Mount Vernon for all postmasters and their guests.

An entirely new and novel series of moving pictures of the postal service along educational lines will be provided for the benefit of the postmasters.

L'rraine, a German detachment, after an extensive mine explosion, penetrated a badly damaged French position and took sixty men prisoner. South of Lusse, some prisoners were brought in by a ptrol.

"There was great activity in the aerial service and numerous encounters occurred in which the enemy lost two machines on the Somme and two west of Vouziers. A British biplane was shot down by anti-aircraft guns near Coucellette, on the Bapume-Albert road."

The statement regards the eastern front follows:

"From the coast to Pinsk no events o fspecial importance occurred. Near Pinsk quiet prevailed. The Russian announcement regarding the evacuation of Pinsk is a pure invention.

"The enemy made futile attacks with very strog forces at several points points against the line of the Stokhod, notably near Czererewiszce Hulewicze, Korysmi and Janmaka and on both sides of the Koevl-Kovno railway line.

"Near Hulewicze we drove back the enemy beyond his position by a strong counter attack. The enemy lost more than 700 prisoners and three machine guns.

"Our aerial squadrons dropped numerous bombs on troops detraining near Horodszeja, aon the Baranovichi-Minck railroad. They also repeated their attacks on Russian shelters east of the Stokhod. In aerial encounters one enemy machine was shot down near Weronthzca east of Zirin, and another west Okonsk.

"A detachment of chasseurs of the army group of General Von Bothmer engaged in a successful fight south of Burkanow wood and brought back a few dozen prisoners.

"The situation on the Balkan front is unchanged."

GERMANS MAKE GAINS ON THE RIGHT BANK OF MEUSE

Paris, July 11.—While relative calm prevailed on both sides of the Somme, according to the official communication issued by the French war office tonight, heavy fighting occurred on the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector, German forces succeeding in gaining a footing in the Damloup battery and in some sections of the French line in the Fumin wood. The text reads:

"On both sides of the Somme the day was relatively calm. Small detached operations enabled us clear completely the wood north of La-Maisonnette and to occupy some underground passages between Estrees and Belloy-En-Santerre. We took some prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the Germans this morning renewed their attacks on the front of the Fleury Station, the Vaux wood, Chapitre and Chenois.

"After several fruitless attempts, which cost him heavy losses, the enemy succeeded in gaining a footing in the Damloup battery and in some elements of our line in the Fumin wood. The bombardment is being maintained intensely in the whole regol.

"On the left bank there was less artillery activity. The usual cannonading occurred on the rest of the front.

"In the region of the Somme our aeroplanes were engaged in fourteen combats yesterday. Four enemy machines, seriously hit by our mitrailleuses, were compelled to plunge abruptly. One of our pilots was able to bring back his machine aflame to our lines and make a landing without accident.

"Our bombing squadrons have been active. On the night of July 10-11 two hundred and twenty shells were dropped on various railway stations where activity was reported, particularly those at Han La Fere and Chauney."

LITTLE RAIN FALLING IN THE ALABAMA FLOOD DISTRICT

Montgomery, Ala., July 11.—Reports from the various sections of Alabama embraced in the flood area late today said that but little rain had fallen since midnight. So far the loss of life has been remarkably small, and confined to negroes. The loss to the crops of the state, as estimated by Commissioner of Agriculture James A. Wade, will exceed $5,600,000, and may run as high as $14,000,000. This last figure depends on the length of time the flood waters cover the ground and the actual extent of damage already done in the northern part of the state where lowlands between the natural watersheds are devoted to corn.

The greatest need for assistance during the day came from the Selma district, especially in the Lake Lanier region of the Cahaba river. Early today Selma appealed to the United States engineering office here for a boat for use in rescuing flood sufferers and saving as much of their personal property was possible. The two boat Alabama was sent out immediately.

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. 50c.

NUMBER SCHOONERS REPORTED MISSING IS REDUCED TO SIX

Biloxi, Miss., July 11—The number of schooners reported missing here since the tropical hurricane of last week, was tonight reduced to six. The St. Bartholomew, with a crew of four men, was found aground in the Louisiana marshes and her crew taken off. The Mattie J. and Doxie Emily, carrying four men each, arrived at Biloxi today.

A piece of the stern of the Mary G. Dantzeler, bearing the vessel's name was brought here tonight from Deer Island, where it was recovered with other pieces of wreckage from the ship. Nothing is known of the fate of her crew of seven men.

Thirty-five men comprise the crews of the six vessels still missing.

most serious. The officers destroyed the still and brought the wounded men to Rex hospital here where physicians say there is no hope for the recovery of the blockader and that Knight will get well without being crippled, most probably. H. G. Gully and B. G. Richardson were other revenue officers in the raiding party. It was the first raid of consequence that has been made hereabouts in a great while, the general impression being that blockading was well nigh suspended in this section.

Capt. Gilmer Commissioned.

The official commission to Capt. E. L. Gilmer, of the Coast Artillery, Greensboro, making him lieutenant colonel in the First Regiment of infantry, North Carolina National Guard, was issued by Acting Adjutant General B. S. Royster today, the instrument bearing the signature of Governor Locke Craig, as commander-in-chief of the North Carolina militia. Colonel Gilmer succeeds Col. J. C. Bessent, of Winston-Salem, who goes on the retired list at his own request on account of physical disability.

There will be an effort that has every promise of success to bring the Association of Labor Officials for the United States and Canada to North Carolina for its 1917 convention. The association meets for the 1916 session at Buffalo, N. Y., July 17, to continue in session for three days. Hon. M. L. Shipman, Commissioner of Labor and Printing for this State, will attend and he carries with him the backing of the municipal and commercial authorities of Asheville to bring the convention to that city next year.

New Corporations.

New corporations were chartered today as follows:

The Northwest Realty Co., of Asheville, capital $50,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by J. D. Murphy, S. G. Bernard and G. A. Thomason for general real estate development.

The Sand-Man Co., of Salisbury, capital $50,000 authorized and $1,500 subscribed by Maurice E. Miller, L. A. Swicegood and others for dealing in building material.

The Hand-Clay Co., of Canton, Haywood county, capital $5,000 authorized and subscribed by C. Hand, J. M. Hand, of Canton, and V. H. Vescher, of Holland, Mich., for developing clay-chins and mica.

Raleigh is planning a great flower show to be held in the splendid new woman's club building, November 1 and 2. It is being planned as a forerunner for a yet more pretentious floral exhibit to be held in the early summer of 1917. The Woman's Club and the chamber of commerce are co-operating in the movement, which is especially for the quickening of the civic pride of the people in the matter of beautifying their homes by the cultivation of flowers. Only flowers grown by the exhibitors will be allowed and there will be most attractive cash and other prizes to be awarded.

Analysis of the water in the Pullen Park bathing pool, of this city, which has been very largely patronized for a long while, has been found by the State laboratory of hygiene to be polluted and there is an abrupt ending of a most pleasant pastime for hundreds of bathers. There is a movement to have the city substitute water from the reservoir for that now used from a creek that passes through the park and it is thought that this will be the solution of the trouble.

Judge W. M. Bond, who is holding Wake Superior court this week, has issued a temporary restraining order against the road commissioners of Harnett county to stop them from constructing a stretch of improved road in Black River township where there is objection to the location of a portion of the proposed road. Fletcher & McLean appeared before Judge Bond and procured the order, which is returnable on July 17 before Judge W. P. Stacy, of Wilmington, at the Moore county Superior court.

DEAD AND MISSING IN HURRICANE ARE ABOUT 85 PERSONS

ed and the high waters are receding at many points, the big rivers in the southwestern part of the state still are swelling and the damage to property and crops is mounting hourly. The drowning of a negro in a pond near Albany, the killing of another by lightning at Ashbury, brought Georgia's death list up to five. From Columbia, Ala., just across the Georgia line, came a report of the drowning of a negro.

Dispatches from Bainbridge described flood conditions in the southwest as the worst calamity that has ever befallen that section. Conservative estimates tonight place the damage in Decatur county alone at $750,000.

bands of outlaws who scattered after the attack on Jiminez in the vicinity of ElValle and had driven them into the hills but no details were given.

General Trevino said he had not received details of either of the clashes, but that all reports indicate there were skirmishes more or less minor in nature. He aid that every effort to force the Villistas to a battle had failed.

No doubt remains in the minds of the military authorities here that Villa is directing the campaign along the Durango-Chihuahua border.

Washington, July 11.—Major General Bliss, assistant chief of staff, left for the Mexican border late today to inspect the National Guard units there. It was said at the War Department that his trip was for administrative purposes wholly and did not foreshadow any immediate change in the commands along the border.

WIFE OF BUSINESS MAN GAINED TEN POUNDS ON TANLAC

C. H. Grady Is So Pleased With Her Improvement That He Begins Taking Tanlac Too.

When C. H. Grady realized how his wife, Mrs. Alice Grady, was suffering from indigestion and nervousness he told her to "Get Tanlac." Mrs. Grady did that very thing and from two bottles and a half gained 10 pounds in weight to say nothing of the help in other ways. And that was enough for Mr. Grady, so he started to take Tanlac too.

Mrs. Grady said to the Tanlac Man: "Indigestion and nervousness threatened to cause a general break-down in my condition, and I was about ready to give up hope when my husband advised me to get Tanlac. After taking the first bottle I noticed a change in my condition; my appetite began to improve, and before I finished the third bottle I could eat anything. Now I am hungry all the time. I sleep well and get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and ready for my housework. Indigestion and nervousness no longer bother me, and, furthermore, I have gained 10 pounds in weight, which is certainly unusual for one at the age of 40 years. Mr. Grady is taking Tanlac now since seeing what it has done for me.

"My complete restoration to health is due to Tanlac, and I recommend it heartily with permission that my story be used for publication so others may also be helped." Mrs. Grady is the wife of the well known Raleigh grocer, of 801 West Morgan street.

Tanlac is sold in Wilmington only at the Bellamy Drug Store, where the Tanlac Man explains its merits daily; Burgaw, C. L. Halstead; Rocky Point, A. N. Rhodes & Co.; Magnolia, J. L. Southall; Southport, Watson's Pharmacy; Supply, G. W. Kirby; New Bern, Bradham Drug Co. Each town has its Tanlac druggist.—adv.

to take on her return cargo of nickel and rubber.

The agents of the craft said today that the cargo had been consigned "to order" and would be delivered to concerns when presented bills of ladings. How these documents reached this country without falling into the hands of the British, they declined to explain.

The interned German steamship Neckar was towed up close to the Deutschland today and will serve as quarters for the crew of the submarine while in port.

The report from abroad today indicating that the Bremen had left Germany prior to the Deutschland and was not long overdue, was denied at the North German Lloyd offices here. It was asserted that the Deutschland was the first to leave.

MERCHANT SUBMARINE BREMEN TO SAIL SOON FOR AMERICA.

Berlin, via London, July 11.—Alfred Lohmann, former president of the Bremen chamber of commerce and originator of the German submarine liner Bremen, was about to start for America with a cargo and that several sister ships are rapidly approaching completion.

The number of boats of this type, it is understood, will soon be sufficient to maintain a weekly trans-Atlantic service.

The re-opening of direct shipping connections between Germany and the United States occasioned great jubilation and enthusiasm among Germans but no one is more elated than Mr. Lohmann.

"Remember," said Herr Lohmann, "that the Deutschland was entirely unarmed; she carried no torpedo tubes, no cannon and no weapons of offense, or defense of any kind.

"So anxious was I that the unarmed merchantman character of our boats should be established beyond doubt I insisted that the captain of the Deutschland should not even carry the customary revolver upon leaving Bremen."

Under these circumstances, he contended, there is nothing to prevent the Deutschland, exclusively a merchantman, from remaining as long as she pleases in a neutral port, and loading a cargo, fuel and supplies.

271,670 PRISONERS CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS UP TO JULY 10.

Petrograd, via London, July 11.—The approximate total of prisoners taken by the Russians during General Brussiloff's operations up to July 10 amounts to 5,620 officers and 266,000 men, the war office announced today. Guns to the number of 312 and 866 machine guns have been captured.

Today's official statement telling of a determined resistance along the Stokhod river follows:

"Fighting in the Stokhod region continues. The enemy, having received reinforcements, brought up Highlanders and offered a desperate resistance.

"On the Fondul-Moldava front, northwest of Kimpolung, southern Bukowina, considerable enemy forces have been thrown back by us after violent engagements at various points. The enemy, unable to arrest our coup de main, took flight."

TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR GIFT FOR THE DEUTSCHLAND'S CREW

New York, July 11.—A check for $10,000 was sent today to Captain Paul Koenig, captain of the German submarine Deutschland, by August Heckscher, a New York capitalist, in recognition of the submarine's feat. The sum will be distributed among the officers and the men.

FORMER MANUFACTURER WHO SERVED PRISON TERM SPEAKS

Frank G. Jones Addresses Salesmanship Congress on "Integrity."

Detroit, Mich., July 11. — Frank Goewey Jones, a former Muskegon, Mich., manufacturer, who served a term in Ionia prison for embezzlement after his plant became bankrupt, delivered an address on "Integrity" to the World Salesmanship Congress here today.

Jones, while at Ionia, was known as a "model prisoner."

"A house of integrity in its dealings with both its customers and its salesmen always must stand complete and unimpaired in moral soundness," said Mr. Jones.

"The only way to avoid being caught in dishonesty is to be completely honests always."

"Choosing Men" was the subject of an address by Brown Landone, of Paris, Mr. Landone was director general of the International Social and Civic Exposition.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS TO WORK FOR WILSON'S ELECTION

National Colored Democratic League Meets in Chicago.

Chicago, July 11.—Members of the National Colored Democratic League, composed of negroes from nearly every state in the Union, held their quadrennial meet here today.

Resolutions endorsing the National Democratic ticket were adopted and plans made to take an active part in the campaign.

Referring to the recent skirmish at Carrizal, Mexico, between troopers of the Tenth United States cavalry and Mexicanh the resolutions praise the President for having "caused the loyal and brave colored troopers that were massacred at Carrizal, while heroically defending the honor of the American flag to to be reclaimed from Mexican soil and returned and interred with the nation's heroic dead at Arlington without discrimination."

SUPPLIES AGAIN FORWARDED TO PERSHING'S FORCE BY RAIL

Shipments Being Made by El Paso Concerns to Casas Grandes.

El Paso, Texas, July 11.—The Mexico Northwestern railroad again has been opened for the shipment of supplies to American troops in Mexico. This action follows the lifting of the embargo on food and other exportations to Mexicans.

Shipments are being made by El Paso concerns by way of Juarez to Casas Grandes merchants who in turn dispose of their supplies to the quarter master at the field base. Army officers welcome the indirect use of the Mexican railway as the rainy season is now on and the motor truck train from Columbus is not so efficient as it was.

Boston, July 11.—Charlie White, of Chicago, defeated Matt Wells, of England, tonight in the fifth round of their 12-round match, the Englishman's manager stopping the contest to save his man further punishment. White, in the fourth round, knocked his opponent to the floor three times. The men are lightweights.

New York, July 11.—Congressman Kent, of California, it was announced here today, has notified the organizers of the Woodrow Wilson Independent League of his willingness to become head of the organization. Mr. Kent was elected to Congress as an independent Republican.

Richmond, Va., July 11.—Henry Fairfax, aged 68, member of the constitutional convention, widely known in state politics and owner of a famous stock farm, died at a hospital in Leesburg, Va., tonight.

LUMBERTON SHUT OUT BY PARKTON IN 11 INNING GAME

Lumberton, N. C., July 11.—Lumberton lost today, Fairmont winning an 11-inning contest three to nothing. The locals had several opportunities to score but failure to work the squeeze play and Minton's decisions against base runners nipped in the bud all prospective tallies. The visiting umpire gave the rawest exhibtion ever seen here, according to local fans, and the game was stopped several times. Barnes kept hits scattered until the eleventh. The board will pass on each case as it is presented. The amendment is effective October 15.

SOUTHERN PUBLISHERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Two Days' Programme is Combined in One at Asheville.

P. G. McDuffie Declares in His Opinion Life Insurance Offers Biggest Advertising Opportunity in the South.

Asheville, N. C., July 11.—Combining two days' programme in one, yesterday's sessions having been postponed on account of delayed members, the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association transacted much business today and reached the election of officers for the ensuing year.
The officers elected are: President, R. S. Jones, Asheville Citizen; first vice president, F. G. Bell, Savannah News; second vice president, D. D. Moore, New Orleans Picayune; secretary-treasurer, Walter Johnson, Chattanooga News.
Executive Committee—Victor H. Hanson, Birmingham News; E. M. Foster, Nashville Banner; C. B. Johnson, Knoxville Sentinel; James H. Allison, Nashville Tennesseean-American; A. F. Sanford, Knoxville Journal and Tribune; G. J. Palmer, Houston Post; W. T. Anderson, Macon Telegraph; W. A. Elliot, Jacksonville Times-Union; Robert Latham, Charleston News and Courier; Elmer Clark, Little Rock Democrat; W. E. Thomas, Roanoke Times; W. B. Sullivan, Charlotte Observer.
The principal address of the day was delivered by P. G. McDuffie, president of the Atlanta Ad. Club, who expressed the opinion that the biggest advertising opportunity in the South today is that offered by life insurance, and that the master minds of the world in almost every line of endeavor have at last awakened to the value of advertising.
Russell R. Whitman, managing director of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, discussed "the wherefore of the audit bureau of circulation and what it has accomplished." He advocated increased subscription rates for Southern newspapers.
The report of the advertising committee appointed last year showed that $2,000 had been spent in drawing the attention of National advertisers to the purchasing power of the South. The report asked for an additional $4,000 to carry on the work ,but action thereon was postponed until tomorrow morning.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Durham, N. C., July 11.—The 43rd annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association will be called to order by President James H. Cowan, of Wilmington, at 9:30 tomorrow morning in the East Duke building, Trinity College. President James H. Southgate, of the Durham chamber of commerce, will deliver the welcoming address, which will be responded to by H. Galt Braxton, of the Kinston Free Press.
The principal address of the day, however, will be that delivered by Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press. Mr. Stone will speak at the Academy of Music tomorrow night at 8:30.
The vanguard of newspaper men began arriving this afternoon. They were met at the station by the reception committee and escorted to the hotel. A brilliant reception and dance was tendered the visitors tonight at the country club by the chamber of commerce.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

After all, what would be life without fighting, I should like to know? From the cradle to the grave, fighting, rightly understood, is the business, the real, highest, honestest business, of every son of man.
—THOMAS HUGHES.

We are now told to watch out for women spies, but nobody ever knew when a spy is going to spy till it's too late.

The humble submission of a well regulated man is a virtue that cannot be imitated by anybody but some other man.

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again," but sometimes she only rises after the procession has followed error to the end of the row.

The European nations are discussing the internationalization of the Bosphorus. We are more interested in the internationlization of the high seas. The Bosphorus doesn't cut much ice with us.

A Wilmington lady says she is in favor of an anti-tipping law, if it will keep the old man from tipping in about midnight under the delusion that stealth is going to count a thing in his favor.

When George Washington was President, various mutts rose up to malign and misrepresent him. Sooner or later his detractors died out, but George Washington's reputation survives the carpings of all the peanut politicians of his day.

Somebody has broken into print with a statement that a July bride is just as sweet as a June bride. Nobody disputes it so far as anybody knows, and folks generally know from far back that the month hasn't a thing to do with the sweetness of brides.

Our old friend Phil Armstrong, of the Jacksonville Times-Union, says: "In fifty years there hasn't been much of a change in men's clothes." Man has neither originality nor artistry, and if it weren't for the ladies he would wear a last year's bird nest so long as it was recognized as a hat.

More and more we recognize the wisdom of North Carolina in making the gubernatorial term four years and making the governor ineligible for a second term. A governor with a single term of four years is enabled to serve the State, while one serving a term of two years is compelled to play politics if he wants a second term.

Colonel Roosevelt is now protesting against sending married men to war. The Married Men's Union will have to notify him that married men are not mollycoddles and slackers and slinkers any more than he is himself. Married men can face their duty on the field just as bravely as they face her at home.

Man tells the same old joke over and over if you will let him, but it is mean for the crowd to let him finish and then tell him that he left out the best part of the story. Some fellow will make out like he knows how the thing originated and that he had a hand in it when the circumstances occurred several years ago.

Why is it that nearly everybody seems disposed to gnaw on somebody else? You are lucky if you can go through a day without being jacked up and snapped up by somebody or other. If they are not in reach of you they will get after you over the telephone. Col. Al Fairbrother attributes all this "start something" business to the "war germ," and to be sure it is a psychological manifestation. Even the cook wants to get on a high horse without waiting for the action of any other nation.

BACK ON THE TROLLEY

Let us all congratulate ourselves that Wilmington is back on her trolley and is ready to go right on ahead in a normal way, as if nothing had ever happened. As fully announced in yesterday's Star, the strike of the conductors and motormen of the Tidewater Power Company has been mutually and amicably adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned. Owing to the vital interests involved, the satisfaction of the public ought to be the greatest, for Wilmington is herself again.

The street car men's strike and the jeering and tintinnabulating of the throngs, whether bent on mischief or disorder, are things of the past. The four companies of Coast Artillery ordered here to preserve order are to be ordered away, and whether the soldiers preserved order or whether order preserved itself, there is no need of dispute. Let it all go with the soldiers who came to perform a duty in the interest of all the city of Wilmington and the State, regardless of distinction.

Wilmington's common sense really took charge of the situation and the military had little to do but watch the citizens' committee handle the situation with consummate adroitness and remarkable ability. It is always better to mobilize brains than the military, and, quite fortunately, Wilmington possesses a large number of citizens who can readily constitute themselves into a diplomatic force of commendable effectiveness. The citizens' committee deserve unstinted commendation and we are sure that the public is both grateful for and gratified at the success of their intermediatory efforts.

At the same time, there is cause for congratulation that they had to deal with Mr. Hugh MacRae on the one hand and the carmen on the other, the former guided by his great public spirit and fine intelligence and the latter by a praiseworthy and intelligent conception of their rights and the interests of the public. All these conciliatory elements were abetted by Mr. Ben Commons' earnest and capable handling of the controversy as the fourth vice-president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America.

We believed all the time that conference and co-operation between mental forces would serve to the best purposes in such an emergency as suddenly came upon Wilmington. The work was well done and we believe that justice will be well served through the friendly arbitration carried to such a happy conclusion.

Wilmington has gotten a taste of the disruption and demoralization of business, so the whole community ought to rejoice that normal conditions are rapidly restoring our lost equilibrium. The Tidewater Power Company and its enterprises and interests constitute a very large part of Wilmington's industrial and material individuality, so all our people are deeply interested in its achievements and success. Its fine physical properties are only a part and parcel of a great and staunch Wilmington institution, the other and greater factors being the human element embraced in its able managing head and its efficient operating force. There are different arms of a public service, and each is vitally essential to the other.

A large portion of the progress and prosperity of Wilmington is dependent upon the progress and prosperity of the Tidewater Power Company, and, while it is a corporation, all elements in Wilmington have a real public interest in it, hardly less profitable to the whole community than it can possibly be to those with an individual interest in it. It is often the case that the public gets the best of all there is in public service corporation, and the trolley line to the Beach, the car lines in the city, the electric light plant and the gasworks are utilities that are public advantages as well as corporate assets. The enterprise of the management and its genius for development may be corporate in the concrete, but is essentially and largely Wilmingtonian in the abstract. Therefore, all of us have a share in what Mr. MacRae and his associates have already achieved and possibly may accomplish in the development of Wilmington.

When we all appreciate this in its fullest sense, we will join hands with Mr. MacRae and his management and his corps of assistants, from the lesser to the greatest units of his institution, and realize that success for it means success for Wilmington and all her people as partners in community development and prosperity. Let all regrets be bygones. They can be only temporary at best in a community so well poised as Wilmington.

THE COUNTRY'S WATER TERMINALS

The ports don't seem to make a study of their efficiency and possibilities, as they certainly ought to do, so a New York company has been organized to do that kind of work. It would be a proper function of the Department of Commerce, it seems to us, but we think it is a capital idea that a concern with $100,000 capital has been chartered for that purpose.

According to the New York Journal of Commerce, announcement is made in New York of the organization in Delaware of the American International Terminal Company by the National City Company, the American International Corporation interests and Stone & Webster. The capital of the new company is to be $100,000, and its object is stated as being "to study problems relating to railway, steamship, warehouse and industrial terminals," with the purpose of providing better facilities for the extension of the export trade of the United States. The directors of the Terminal Company are: Vice President George J. Baldwin and W. S. Kies, of the American International Corporation; R. P. Tinsley, secretary and treasurer of the same company; J. H. Perkins, vice president of the National City Bank; E. P. Currier, of the National City Bank; C. H. Mitchell, vice president of the National City Company; E. S. Webster, H. R. Hayes and O. E. Stevens, of Stone & Webster.

In outlining the plans of the new company, Mr. Kies said that no programme had been definitely decided upon beyond the immediate study of the problems presented by the port of New York, but that attention would also be turned to other ports as need developed. He said that an attempt would be made to consider all of the many propositions for terminal improvements that have come up in all parts of the world, with the idea of determining upon the plan which would give the greatest efficiency at the lowest cost. So far the railroads and other terminal interests have not been approached with any concrete proposals, Mr. Kies explained, but there was little doubt that they would be willing to co-operate.

Will H. Lyford, who has for more than thirty years been connected with the largest terminal railway system in Chicago, and has aided in the establishing of terminals in several other cities, has been retained as consulting expert by the company.

A NEW WILMINGTON SPIRIT.

There is no reason why Wilmington should not get a new spirit and make progress on broader lines than ever before. The Rotarian spirit of "get together" is a good one, and all we have to do is to get the spirit. There is every evidence of the fact that we are people of intense energy but as a community it is misdirected. It is too generally exercised in the things that we fight over instead of the things that we ought to fight for. We surely have the energy but we get too much of a move on us when we are going in opposite directions, yet once we unite our energies and go the same route there will be something doing.

We ought to be careful about what we do with our energy when it is not directed in the right way for the upbuilding of Wilmington. We ought to go slow on some of the small things that only tend to divide us, but go strong on those things which are worth while fighting for as a well mobilized force. We will have to train ourselves on the soft peddle, and learn to blow the big horn on something so big that a little thing can't entertain us a bit—such, for instance, as an unreasonably warm fight over some little office that isn't worth 30 cents to the participants in a primary or a township meeting.

When we get to pushing for big things we will refuse to waste our time on little affairs. We have all sorts of energy, but in the absence of large sized things to be accomplished we get busy on something that isn't our size.

We may as well make up our minds that there is something to be gained by getting together and sticking together, but we have to get the spirit, otherwise a "get together" slogan consists of only two words. Making up our minds and determining on a progressive, constructive course will be a sign that we have the spirit, but so long as we are going somewhere but don't know where we are going, we won't have much coming to us.

Revolutions always go forward and we learn from them a new direction to go. We ought to learn enough from experience to get a new spirit and make it count for something worthy of our energies.

THE ECONOMIC WASTE OF SOLDIERING.

Preparedness comes high even if it is a necessity. Militarism comes higher, and surely war becomes woeful waste. Even though it be true that some things are costly we are obliged to have them till our luck is changed.

Just at this time Kansas is having hard luck. She has a tremendous wheat crop ready to be gathered but her contribution of 2,500 National Guardsmen to the country for protection of the border has accentuated the acuteness of the shortage of harvest hands, annually due about this time of the year. The military service has taken many trained harvesters from the farmers and they complain that the supply of idle labor ordinarily available each year is not to be drawn upon, since the idlers have gotten the jobs vacated by the militiamen.

Kansas is a pacifist state and proved it by sending a delegation to the Chicago convention to nominate Mr. Henry Ford. Kansas loves peace and prosperity, and, therefore, ought to support President Wilson. Nevertheless, Kansas is getting a taste of what even preparedness means. She really may be put to her stumps to save her big harvests and is in a position to realize the economic waste of soldiering, not even to mention the matter of maintaining an army. War would make it all the worse; so there is no wonder that the effect is said to be decidedly favorable to President Wilson because it knows that he is opposed to war except as an absolute necessity, only to be met after all efforts at peace have been exhausted.

The world ought to recognize how wasteful militarism and war is, for it not only limits production, but it is both a waste of resources and a more heinous waste of human producers.

No jingo or the friend of a jingo ought to get many votes in Kansas.

The South Carolina papers state that so far, the primary county-to-county campaign of the candidates is harmonious. However, is that state of affairs satisfactory or disappointing to the natives?

WILMINGTON NEEDS A TRAFFIC CLUB.

Eo the Editor of The Star:

Apropos the rate adjustment controversy mentioned through the press during the past few days. That Wilmington needs a traffic club, is evident not only from the suggestions emanating by reason of the cognizance now being given general traffic conditions, by the Corporation Commission, but it is a common occurrence to hear our merchants complain that they cannot do business in such and such territory on account of freight rates. That ought not to be the case at a point which is or should be a rate basing point.

The necessity of such a local organization is obvious when we consider the fact that within itself, the Corporation Commission for instance, cannot begin to intepret and adjust specific traffic irregularities; indeed it cannot be reasonably expected of them, even were they incumbered with sundry commercial duties. In other words, their real function in this respect is to adjudicate or remedy specific conditions upon complaint of the parties or section aggrieved.

The same is true to a great extent with our local commercial organizations, which have for their purpose the promotion of the general interests of the community; and it is with us like most other large cities; the detail of traffic and freight transportation rates has attained such proportions that an auxiliary, or an additional department, is necessary.

I believe that a statement showing comparison of the rates, schedules, etc., which obtain in the "Wilmington Trade Territory" with those in other localities that do not have half our transportation advantages, would disclose that our merchants are now and have been at an enormous disadvantage. If this condition does not exist, though I believe it does, we should at least know where we stand and thereby be enabled to proceed to further our interests along this line as the opportunities present themselves.

This is a suggestion for what it is worth, and I am offering it at this time as our Legislature is soon to convene and it may develop that we will have to call on that body to help remedy matters.

Finally, permit me to remind that unless there is a substantial organization, nothing material can be accomplished. This has been the observation of most of us and it will be well to take advantage of the knowledge at this time.

Respectfully,
J. FELTON HEAD.

CAPE FEAR FERRY RATES.

To the Editor of The Star:

I noticed in The Star a few days ago, someone writing in regard to ferry rates, and said it was impossible to get to Wilmington for less than 82 cents for auto and two persons. I wish to state to the public that the ferry rate for an auto and two persons one way is 41 cents, which takes them across both rivers and two and two-tenths miles of road.

O. A. DURANT.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Hughes is slated for a tour to North Carolina. It is well. We know of no state in the Union where he can do as little harm to the Democrats as in this grand old store-house of Democracy.—Charlotte News.

The Wilmington Star says: "Hughes is laying great stress upon 'out and out Americanism', but is not saying much about the American working man. After a while the Republicans will drop Americanism and again rely upon fooling the working men." Hughes would not be a Republican if he did not try to work the working man.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Hon. Thomas D. Warren, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, plans to open headquarters at Raleigh soon and is making preparations to conduct one of the greatest campaigns in the history of this State with a view of rolling up a record breaking vote. The main work to be done by Chairman Warren will be that of getting out the "stay at home" vote. To show those Democrats who, heretofore, have not thought it necessary to go out and cast their ballot, that it is most important that they vote in order that the returns will give Wilson a majority greater than any in the history of the United States. The Republicans are counting on many voters staying at home in the next election but they are going to be disillusioned and North Carolina is going to give material assistance in disillusioning them.—New Bern Sun-Journal.

SOUTHPORT NEWS NOTES.

Brunswick Commissioners in Session. Criminal Assault Case.

Southport, N. C., July 11.—The county commissioners have been busy this week adjusting the county tax books, upon the basis of the new tax levy. Outside this work of adjusting, the board attended to the usual monthly routine order business connected with county affairs.

A case was heard today before Magistrates W. T. Pinner and Price Furpless, sitting together, of alleged criminal assault as charged taking place at the home of Jim Swain, who lives about two miles from this place, the defendant, a colored man about 52 years old, and Maud Reeves, 13 years, also colored.

After hearing all the testimony obtainable, medical testimony as well, the charge of criminal assault was not found sustained, but the testimony showed that the girl had been struck with a gun, or part of one, and upon this a verdict of assault and battery with a deadly weapon was found, Swain being bound over under a justified bond of $400 for the next term of court. Not being able at the time to give this bond he was committed to the county jail.

New York, July 11.—Catcher Leslie Nunamaker, of the New York Americans was today suspended indefinitely for his language to Umpire O'Loughlin during a dispute over ball and strikes in the sixth inning of yesterday's game between New York and Cleveland.

HEALTH IS WEALTH
by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

Health is the greatest of all possessions.

Let There Be Light.

LET there be light; also, let the light be placed so that it shall not glare, and shall be properly disposed with relation to shadows.

Sufficient light being forthcoming, the next consideration is how to use it wisely. Factory lamps are oftentimes not sufficiently shaded; and are placed so that they dazzle the eye and strain the vision. One habitually using one's eyes in strong light decomposes the "visual purple" faster than it can be regenerated. Besides, a constant, extremely fatiguing and painful muscular contraction is compelled.

Thus, the most lighted room is not always the best lighted. Very few modern illuminants are of sufficiently mild intensity to permit their use at close range. The old, soft, mellow candle or gas light, when there was sufficient of it, treated the human vision more mercifully and benignantly. Powerful lamps must be screened by such well-designed reflectors as will both remove the glare, and direct the light, not upon the workman's eyes, but upon the object. And lamps must be properly placed as to shadow. Not at one's right hand, for example, where it will shadow the sheet to be written on, or the material the driller or cutter works at.

Such is a common defect in banks and offices; and many an operative's hand and fingers have been mutilated by reason of the light casting a shadows. Not at one's right hand, for example, where it will shadow the the floor (where it is wasted), rather than upon the tables, where the work is to be done.

Dangerous machinery should ever be well lighted; it is worse than useless to place a guard about such machinery, if working it in semi-darkness invited maiming or death.

Bad lighting headed the list of causes of accidents in a report of a metropolitan casualty company, in which it was shown that when darkness set in early and artifical light had to be depended upon, the accident percentage rose progressively and became greatest in the dark months. Throughout the year relatively large proportion of accidents occur after four P. M.—the time when artificial light begins to be necessary. (No doubt the late afternoon fatigue is an additional factor in such accident-production.) A badly lighted shop, moreover, will become dirty and unhealthy.

ARTERIO-SCLEROSIS.

A. D. writes. 1. What are the symptoms of arterio-sclerosis? In such a sufferer 45 years old what regime should be followed, especially regarding diet and exercise? 2. Is buttermilk, distilled water or grape juice of benefit in stopping the progress of the disease? 3. Is hard mental work or moderate exercise injurious?

Answer: 1. Am answering this question in a special article. 2. Yes, but why distilled water? Pure water is better. 3. Hard work of any kind is injurious; moderate work or exercise are not.

A REMEDIABLE CASE.

Answer to J. M.: Much can be done by a competent surgeon for your case. Undoubtedly the accident you mention was the cause. Send your full name and address (as all inquirers should), and I will answer you letter. I cannot do this in print, by reason of the nature of your trouble.

FORBIDDEN FOODS IN THE NURSERY.

Answer to D. K. E.: Unless especially permitted by the doctor, the following foods are not appropriate in the nursery, not any way until the second teeth have appeared: Ham-sausage, pork, salt fish, fried beef, corned beef, goose, duck, broiled or stewed kidneys, liver and bacon, stewed liver, all gravies except dish gravies, baked or fried tomatoes, fried potatoes, pickled beets, carrots, pastries, griddle cakes, very fresh bread, meat and fruit pies, rich cakes, hot biscuits, meat stews as usually made, raw celery, raw or fried onions, radishes, cucumbers, doughnuts, preserves, canned fruits, tea, coffee, liquor of all kinds.

STREET CAR SERVICE IN WILMINGTON NORMAL

Striking Motormen and Conductors Return to Work.

Employes Sign Agreement Before Assuming Duties—Committee of One Hundred Appointed — Usual Schedules Operated.

Following a week of unsettled conditions during the strike of the motormen and conductors of the Tidewater Power Company, Wilmington yesterday became quiet and peaceful, even more so than usual, with everything running as smoothly as if there had been no break. The striking employes, in accordance with the terms of the agreement reached Monday night through the efforts of the Citizen's Committee, returned to their positions yesterday at noon and were assigned their runs by General Manager A. B. Skelding of the Tidewater. Before beginning work each man signed an agreement to abide by the terms of the settlement.

The public generally yesterday expressed the greatest satisfaction that a settlement had been effected and that the striking employes had returned to their work. The general attitude of practically all citizens was that it was best to let by-gones be by-gones and that in the future an effort be made to bring about a better understanding in order to avoid any unfortunate controversies.

Even nature seemed determined to heal old wounds and all during the day, a summer sun beamed its cheerful rays upon the city and the heavy rains that had been prevalent during the past week, doing much damage to the streets, disappeared. Everybody seemed glad that they could conduct their affairs without the distractions incident to the settlement of controversies that vitally concern the public.

Members of the Citizen's Committee, while expressing regret that the car men should have deemed it necessary to strike, felt that with the better understanding that had been brought about through the mediation of uninterested persons the way had been paved so as to absolutely avoid in the future such an occurrence. Members of the committee also expressed themselves as of the opinion that it was time to "bury the hatchet" and to stop any controversies.

No Principle Abandoned.

Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, said yesterday that in justice to him and his associates, it should be made clear to the public in Wilmington and abroad that in whatever concessions had been made in the settlement of the controversy, they had yielded not a single principle for which they had contended from the first. The paramount and fundamental issue at stake, as he saw it, was one of authority, and he declared that he had never abandoned the position maintained from the beginning, that he could not consent to a division of authority with the conductors and motormen at a point where the company was held morally and financially responsible by the public.

Mr. MacRae stated very positively that he is not opposed to unions and that he really believes in them, that they are not to be condemned as such, but that he could never agree to share with others the authority that makes him and his company solely responsible to the public.

Form of Agreement.

The form of agreement, which was entered into between the Tidewater Power Company and the car men yesterday, follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., July 11th, 1916.

"We, the undersigned, state unequivocally and without mental reservation that we have read, or heard read, the terms of the agreement approved and recommended by the Citizens' Committee, including Mr. MacRae's letters of July 9th and July 10th. We understand these letters, and particularly the letter of July 9th, which is the basis of this agreement. We understand further that this agreement after we have accepted positions again with the Tidewater Power Company, is, as far we are concerned, to be interpreted solely and absolutely by the Citizens' Committee, and each signer hereto agrees to abide at all times by the decisions of the Citizens' Committee and through Mr. Noe, its chairman, where powers and authority have been conferred on him.

(Signed by the car men).

"We, the undersigned officers of the Tidewater Power Company, have read and understood the agreement above referred to, and hereby employ the signers hereto under the terms of said agreement; and on our part we pledge ourselves and the company to abide by its terms and the decisions of the Committee of Citizens.

"HUGH MacRAE,
"President.
"M. F. H. GOUVERNUER,
"Vice-President.
"A. B. SKELDING,
"General Manager.
"RAYMOND HUNT,
"Assistant General Manager."

Committee of One Hundred.

The Citizens' committee met yesterday at noon and appointed a committee of one hundred citizens, as requested by Mr. Hugh MacRae, to pass upon the past and future policy of the Tidewater Power Company. This committee will meet this morning at 11 o'clock in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce for organization. In announcing the names of the committee, the Citizens' committee issued the following statement:

"The Citizens' Committee believes that the differences between the Tidewater Power Company and their striking employes have been peacefully settled, which was the main purpose of the Citizens' Committee, but in making this adjustment Mr. Hugh MacRae requests our committee to call a representative committee of one hundred men from all walks of life, to meet him Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce to hear and pass upon the past policy of the Tidewater Power Company and its future purposes, in order that he may be guided in forming his plans by the attitude of this community, as his undertakings are wholly dependent upon a friendly spirit of public co-operation.

"The list of names mentioned below has been carefully, and we trust, wisely and fairly, selected by our committee, with a view to securing a proper expression of the community attitude, in order that the purpose of this meeting may be secured.

"The gentlemen named are requested

INCREASE IN EXPORTS FOR LAST FISCAL YEAR

Gain of Nearly Two Millions in Wilmington District.

Imports Fell Off Considerably But Receipts Made Big Gain, According to the Annual Report of Collector Taylor.

With a gain of 13 per cent in exports and a gain of 157 1-2 per cent in the receipts of the office for the past fiscal year, ended June 30th, Col. Walker Taylor, collector of the Wilmington Customs District, has reason to be proud of the splendid record. Naturally the European war has seriously effected imports and last year there was a falling off of 40 per cent over the preceding year.

A net gain of $1,771,133 is shown in exports for the district which is composed of the ports of Wilmington, Winston-Salem, Beaufort, New Bern, Elizabeth City, Washington, N. C., and Manteo. Winston-Salem was only recently made a port of entry. The total exports for the year were $13,079,668, while for the preceding year they were $11,308,535. The value of the imports for the past year were $1,195,616 as compared with $1,990,755 for the year before.

The government secured considerable revenue from the Wilmington district which is officially known as district No. 15, the receipts for the past fiscal year having been $48,404.92, as compared with $18,786.85. This shows a gain of 157.5 per cent. The cost to collect a dollar in the district for the past year was reduced from 47 1-2 cents to 18 1-2 cents.

Colonel Taylor has as his assistants in the local office Deputy Collector Thos. L. Vines, Special Deputy W. S. Clayton and Inspector S. F. Highsmith. While the new custom house is being built the offices are located in the Murchison National Bank building.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS

Young People of Fifth Avenue Church Have Interesting Meeting.

An interesting meeting of the Epworth League of Fifth Avenue Methodist church was held last night, the services being in charge of the devotional and business depatments. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Louis Sholar. Two inspiring talks were made by Messrs. Farrar and Gaither, two recent graduates of Trinity College, who are in the city for a few days.

The next meeting of the League will be held on next Tuesday night and will be in charge of Miss Alberta Dudley, superintendent of the social department.

FUNERAL OF MR. MEEKS.

Was Held Yesterday Afternoon From Residence—Interment in Oakdale.

Funeral services for Mr. Robert W. Meeks, who died Monday night at 6 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, were held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from his late residence, No. 112 Ann street. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. John Jeter Hurt, pastor of the First Baptist church, who was assisted by Rev. W. Marshall Craig. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. E. E. Roberts, Clarence M. Spindle, W. A. Dunn, Allie M. Alderman, T. B. Willard, and Mr. Rogers.

STILL WORKING FOR BRIDGE

Rotary Club Wants Better Transportation Facilities—Committee to International Meeting.

Plans are being rapidly developed for making application to the government to build a bridge across the Cape Fear river at Wilmington, Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., member of the New Hanover Board of Commissioners, told members of the Rotary Club at the noonday luncheon and meeting of this organization at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. Mr. MacMillan said that application would likely be made next week.

Messrs. Milton Calder, J. S. Williams and William Rehder were named as delegates to the International Rotary Convention which meets next week in Cincinnati, Ohio. These Rotarians will carry along a full supply of the Rotary spirit and expect to bring back many helpful ideas for Wilmington's live bunch of boosters.

Mr. T. R. Ames called attention to the fact that the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association which will hold its annual convention at Wrightsville Beach, July 21 and 22, was first invited by the Rotary club. He suggested the appointment of a reception committee and an automobile committee for the convention. Messrs. D. H. Howes, Jr., M. A. Curtis and J. B. McCabe were appointed as members of the reception committee and Messrs. Abe Einstein, James Howard and Paul B. Bell as members of the automobile committee

Mr. Louis T. Moore suggested the need of better transportation facilities across the Cape Fear river, if Wilmington is ever to develop into the industrial center that it should be, and thought that in view of the improbability of securing a bridge any time soon that steps should be taken to secure a free ferry or at least to secure a ferry where the rates would be merely nominal.

Mr. MacMillan thought that a bridge should be built and declared that he personally was ready as a member of the Board of Commissioners to go ahead with the arrangements for securing the bridge. He stated that to secure permission from the government for the bridge, it would first be necessary to make application to the local district engineer, who would appoint a time for a hearing. After securing all the necessary data this officer would make his recommendations to the War Department. Should the application be turned down, recourse could still be had to a special act by Congress.

Mr. J. S. Williams was favorable to a bridge because of the big expense of maintaining a ferry. The expense of repairs and up-keep of floating property, he said, is on an average about 20 per cent.

NEW DRAINAGE PROJECT WILL BE ESTABLISHED

Will be Located in Winter Park Section, Near Wilmington.

Landowners Petition Clerk of Superior Court for Survey—Board of Viewers Appointed to Make Preliminary Report.

Realizing the splendid benefits to be secured from proper drainage, particularly as shown by the first drainage project to be undertaken in New Hanover county near Winter Park, east of Wilmington, the landowners of the section north of the Wrightsville turnpike and lying between Highwood park on the west and Winter Park on the east, have petitioned Maj. W. N. Harriss, clerk of the Superior Court, to have a drainage district laid off in that section, which will comprise in the neighborhood of a thousand acres of land.

Major Harriss heard the petitions of the property owners of the proposed district several days ago and a satisfactory bond having been filed by them, appointed a board of viewers to go over the land and make a preliminary survey with the purpose of finding out approximately the cost of the project. This action was taken in accordance with the provisions of the North Carolina Drainage Law.

Upon recommendation of Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, Mr. J. L. Becton, a well known civil engineer of Wilmington, who made the survey of the Winter Park drainage district, which is the first one to be established in New Hanover, was appointed by Major Harriss as engineer. The other members of the board of viewers are Messrs. J. Stevenson Brown and Linwood D. Latta. They are required by law to go over the project and make a report within 30 days to the Clerk of the Superior Court.

The proposed district which will be known as New Hanover Drainage District No. 2, is located about four miles east of Wilmington and is in close proximity to the district which was recently drained. It embraces water sheds of what are known as the Downy and Sweet Water branches and their tributaries which drain everything north of the Turnpike in that section, including the suburbs Idlewild and Edgewood as well as that part of Winter Park on that side of the highway. While there are a large number of residences in the proposed district, much of the land is well suited for agricultural purposes. A majority of the landowners signed the petition requesting the district and no difficulty is anticipated in carrying the project through.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed for record yesterday: A. O. Schuster and wife to A. S. Kirby, for $200 and other consideration, lot on west side of 11th, 95 feet south of Chestnut, 10 by 90 feet in size; Samuel A. Lewis to John D. Fisher, for $50, one acre of land in Federal Point township; George B. Applewhite to R. W. Hodges, for $10 and other considerations, lot 90 feet east of Seventh and 231 feet south of Swann, 33 by 75 feet in size.

Schedule B Taxes Are Due.

Sheriff Cowan has an advertisement elsewhere in today's Star in which he calls attention to the fact that Schedule B taxes were due June 1st, 1916, and all liable under this schedule who do not come and pay at once are subject to indictment.

TO ATTEND BIG CONVENTION

Wilmington Societies to be Represented at All South Christian Endeavor Convention in Atlanta.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will leave this afternoon for Atlanta, Ga., where they will attend the All-South Christian Endeavor Convention which convenes in that city tomorrow. They are on the programme for addresses. Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, will make the opening address. Dr. Francis E. Clark, of Boston, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, will preside at the various sessions of the convention.

It is expected that over 50 delegates from societies in various parts of North Carolina will be in attendance at this convention. The following will leave this afternoon from Wilmington: Dr. J. M. Wells, Mr. Geo. L. Mitchell, president of North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union; Mr. B. B. Reynolds, vice president; Mr. H. F. Jones, president of Westminster Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church; Mr. Dudley Howell and Francis Thames, of the society of the First Presbyterian church, and Misses Nell Green and Bessie Hardwick, representing the Society of Dock Street Christian church.

Some of the greatest denominational leaders in America will be present to take part in the programme. Among them are Rev. Egbert W. Smith, D. D., Nashville, executive secretary of Foreign Missions for the Southern Presbyterian church and 30 leading Southern Presbyterian pastors. Rev. William Ralph Hall, of Philadelphia, secretary of Young People's Work for the U. S. A. Presbyterian church; Frank Lowe, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., National field secretary Christian Endeavor for the Disciples of Christ.

The leading Christian Endeavor workers of America will be present. Besides Dr. Clark there will be Daniel A. Poling, of Boston, president's associate of the United Society of C. E.; Karl Lehmann, of Birmingham, Ala., Southern states secretary of C. E.; E. P. Gates, of Chicago, field secretary of the Illinois C. E. Union; Edgar F. Garwood, field secretary of the Brooklyn, N. Y., C. E. Union; Charles F. Evans, of Lexington, Ky., field secretary of the All-South C. E. Extension Committee.

Three thousand delegates are expected at this first All-South C. E. Convention in Atlanta, July 13-16. It will be the greatest religious meeting for young people ever held in the South.

MANY RATS EXTERMINATED

Dr. Nesbitt Tells Board of Health Splendid Work Has Been Done. Monthly Reports Made.

An "uplift" movement that has received comparatively little public notice but which, according to Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county health officer, has been a very important undertaking from the standpoint of health has been the extermination of rats. Dr. Nesbitt told the members of the Board of Health at their regular semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon that early last November Mr. W. F. Moore came to Wilmington from Savannah, Ga., and offered his services as at rat killer. In eight months he has used five tons of rat bait and killed innumerable thousands of them.

The reading of the monthly reports constituted the chief business before the board yesterday afternoon. Chairman W. A. McGirt presided and the other members present were Prof. Washington Catlett, Dr. J. B. Cranmer and Dr. R. B. Slocum.

Dr. Nesbitt told the board that if it didn't stop raining soon that there would likely be a big "crop" of mosquitos. There is nothing that can be done to prevent the breeding of the pests, said the doctor, until the heavy rains cease. Dr. Nesbitt stated that the milk station, which has been made possible by the funds secured by the ladies of Sorosis, will be ready for operation today. There has been some delay on account of securing the equipment.

The statistical report for the month of June shows a temporary death rate for white people of 6.2 per thousand while for the colored race it was 21.9, making the average for both races 13.6. The temporary birth rate per thousand was 16.9 for the whites and 26 for the colored, making an average of 21. The total number of deaths was 49 for the month, of which 16 were white and 33 colored. The total number of births was 63, of which 26 were white and 37 were colored. Of the deaths in the city, 12 were non-residents and 11 of the total number were under five years of age.

PROBABLE CAUSE IS FOUND

Two Negroes Held for Housebreaking by the Recorder

Probable cause was found yesterday by Recorder Empie in the case of State against Morgan Spencer and Willie Brown, both colored, charged with housebreaking in connection with the theft of articles from the residence of Mr. W. H. Northrop, Jr., on Market street several days ago. Unable to furnish in the sum of $50 each, both defendants were committed to jail to await trial at the next term of Superior Court. Charged with complicity in the above house-breaking, George Turner, Herbert Wright and Son Eddy, all colored, were discharged from custody, no probable cause being found against them. W. P. Gafford, Esq., conducted the hearing of cases against the defendants, until the arrival of Solicitor Geo. L. Peschau, who was busy the greater part of the morning at the coroner's inquest into the death of Mr. George B. Congleton.

Samuel Murray, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, admitted that he had thrown the bottle which hit his former landlady on the head. He declared, however, that he had not seen his target at the time, as he was on the other side of the house. It seems that he heard the sound of her voice, and after making due allowance for wind and range hurled the missile over the building. That the range finders, whatever they might have consisted of, were not defective, was proved y his bottle's hitting the target on the top of the head.

Asked by Solicitor Peschau if he were not crazy, the defendant declared that it was the other people who were crazy and not him. He admitted, however, that he had spells at times and gave people "h—l" with bottles or anything else that came handy under such circumstances.

He was remanded to the Clerk of the Superior Court in order that an investigation to determine his sanity might be made.

MEMBERS ENGINEER COMPANY TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT.

Lieut. Col. Joseph Hyde Pratt to Arrive Here Next Monday.

A meeting of all men interested in the formation of a company of engineers in Wilmington, which has already been recruited up to one-half its strength, is called by Mr. George Gillette, the recruiting officer, for this evening at 8 o'clock in the hall on the second floor of the Woolvin building on Princess street.

Mr. Gillette announces that he is anxious to complete the roster of the company by Friday, so it can be forwarded to the Adjutant General on Saturday. All young men who think they would like to join or desire information concerning this branch of the National Guard of the State are urged to be present.

Lieut. Col. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Raleigh, will arrive in Wilmington on next Monday. He will meet and discuss steps with the recruiting officer and others interested looking to the early mustering into service of Wilmington's new military company.

Wallace, N. C., July 11.—The Christian Endeavor meeting Monday night was conducted by Master James Cavenaugh. The subject of the meeting, "Consecration," was made quite interesting by the helpful talks which were made by Mrs. R. Murphy Williams, of Greensboro, and Miss Ruth Williams. The prayer was made by Mr. James Henry Moore, Burgaw. The business part of the meeting was turned over to Mr. Jeremiah Southerland, president, who, after a brief talk, dismissed the meeting with a prayer. A beautiful quartette was rendered by Misses Althea Jackson, Ella Cooper, Jennie Clement and Susie Southerland.

STOCKHOLDERS OF NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD MEET

Annual Session Held in Greensboro Yesterday—Usual Dividend.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 11.—Stockholders of the North Carolina railroad met in annual session here today. Although the secretary and treasurer had issued about 250 passes for the meeting to stockholders and members of their families, only a small part of the number were in appearance at the meeting. Secretary-Treasurer John P. Cook, of Concord, has charge of the matter of issuing passes for the occasion. Soon after the road was first built the annual meeting of stockholders of the company was a great occasion, always attended by hundreds of people who brought their families and a picnic dinner.

Today's meeting was largely formal, the old directors being elected, both on behalf of the State and private stockholders. Col. Word H. Wood is president. The usual semi-annual dividend of 3 1-2 per cent will be paid.

FLOOD WATERS IN ASHEVILLE SECTION RAPIDLY RECEDING

Bottom Lands in Mill Section of City Have Been Flooded.

Asheville, N. C., July 11.—Rapidly receding waters of the French Broad river and local streams, following a cessation of the four days' rainfall, greatly minimized the flood danger in this section today. While the bottom lands in the mill section of this city are still covered with water, the situation is improving hourly. Similar reports were received tonight from Take Toxaway section where the corn crops were greatly damaged by the high waters of Sunday and Monday.

Passenger train service on the Transylvania division of the Southern, which was annulled yesterday, will be resumed tomorrow.

Erdman and Vardell Grantham, of the McDonald section, were Lumberton visitors Saturday. From here Mr. Vardell went to Wrightsville Beach, where he will spend several days.———Messrs. Geo. P. Branch and Henry Ivey, of Proctorville, passed through town this morning en route home from Wrightsville Beach, where they spent the week-end."

Among recent arrivals at the Georgia Cottage are the following: Misses Addie and Louise Digges, Rockingham; Messrs. Hubert Prosser and T. S. Evans, Hamlet; Mrs. C. J. Stewart and Miss Betsy Long, Rockingham; Messrs. F. T. Tucker, W. H. McLain, R. M. Hawkins, R. A. Davis and D. C. North, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Saul, Hamlet; Messrs. B. W. Whittaker and J. E. Stagg, Durham; Messrs. A. H. Yopp and O. C. Adams, Wilmington; Misses A. E. Perry, M. E. Drew and E. Haygood, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Burnett and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mallard, Wilmington.

Miss Lee Ola Shannon, of Birmingham, Ala., who is spending several weeks with her family at the Oceanic Hotel, had as her guests several couples from members of the younger set at Wrightsville Beach on a moonlight sail on the Virgie May, Capt. W. M. Well's sailing sharpie, which left its dock at the hotel about 11 p. m. Monday evening and returned at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. With a pleasant breeze blowing they enjoyed a most delightful three-hours' cruise to Shell Island other points of interest. Several members of the party carried various musical instruments with them and their playing added much to the pleasure of the trip.

—Among the arrivals at The Orton yesterday were: W. A. McDaniel, Scotland Neck; H. P. Whitted, Charlotte; W. B. Fort, Pikeville; Capt. Nathan O'Berry, Goldsboro; Frank W. Williams, Charlotte; Messrs. J. J. Hickorth and J. R. Page, Aberdeen; and I. C. Wright, Asheville.

MAN WAS KILLED BY ENGINE

While In An Intoxicated Condition, According to Verdict Rendered by Coroner's Jury Yesterday.

Following the testimony of several additional witnesses yesterday afternoon, the coroner's jury which has been investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. George B. Congleton, who was run over by the A. C. L. yar dengine No. 118 at the Ninth street crossing near Brunswick street Sunday night, found that the deceased came to his death by being run over while in an intoxicated condition by an A. C. L. shifting engine.

The jury, as assembled by Coroner A. S. Holden, consisted of Messrs. P. B. Bell, Julian Taylor, H. H. Harrison, D. K. LeGwin, O. H. Shoemaker and Capt. W. A. Sanders. The examination of witnesses was conducted by County Solicitor George L. Peschau.

It was at the morning session that it was pretty clearly established that Mr. Congleton had been drinking on the night he was killed. Examined by Solicitor Peschau, Mr. M. A. Nichols testified that he saw Mr. Congleton about 6 o'clock near Sixth and Seventh streets; that Congleton was with two other men who he did not know and that they appeared to be under the influence of liquor, as they were holding to each other and staggering along the streets. The only other witness examined at the morning session was Claude Latimer, colored, a helper at the A. C. L. coal chute, who testified that Engineer F. A. Hudler had told him that a man that had been killed was on the track, and asked him to stay with the body until the doctor came. The witness swore that the deceased uttered only a few words and groans before the physician arrived.

The principal witness at the afternoon session, Mr. W. Z. Zeller, testified that he had met Congleton about 5 o'clock on the day that he was killed at Eighth and Castle streets and that he spent several hours with him in the northern part of the city, where they met Mr. J. Burriss. While in that part of the city, the witness testified they drank some liquor and about dusk parted company with Congleton on Swann street near Eighth.

Mr. Zeller testified that they tried to get Congleton to go with them to the southern part of the city, but that the latter refused and walked up Swann towards the railroad. He further testified that when they parted with Congleton, the latter was wearing a Panama hat and that he also had had in his possession during the evening an automatic pistol. Neither of these articles, so far as is known were found following the accident. Several other witnesses corroborated Mr. Zeller as to the condition of the deceased on the night in question.

PARKER, N. C., MAN GETS QUICK RELIEF

W. R. Davenport Better After First Dose of Remedy.

W. R. Davenport of Parker, N. C., long suffered from a peculiar malady of the stomach. He sought treatment with but little relief. At times it seemed that he would have to give up hope.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and found immediate benefit. He wrote:

"For years I have suffered from a disease which puzzled doctors. They termed it catarrh of the stomach, saying the only hope would be a change of climate, and that in all probability I would never get well. Then I heard of your remedy. One bottle gave me instant relief. It made me feel like a new man. Your full course of treatments has about cured me. Several of my friends have also been cured."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

THEATRICAL

The thrilling photoplay of "The Spoilers" will be seen at the Royal tomorrow, in nine reels. The wonderful success that has attended the presentation of "The Spoilers," demonstrates the popularity of the big motion picture productions. Such attractions appeal to patrons of the regular theatre and moving picture fans alike. "The Spoilers" is attracting all classes of theatregoers, at popular prices, within the reach of everybody.

As all who have seen Rex Beach's thrilling story will recall, "The Spoilers" abounds in tense, dramatic situations and exciting incidents. The photoplay is even more thrilling than the book because it actually brings all the stirring events before the eyes of the spectators.

There are so many thrilling scenes in "The Spoilers" that it would take too much space to enumerate them all. Some of them are the terrific fight between Glenister and McNamara; the realistic Alaskan rain-storm; the wonderful dynamiting and explosion of the mines; Helen Chester's dive overboard to escape the quarantined ship; Cherry Malotte's wild ride through the storm; the exciting faro gambling scene; the rescue of Helen Chester from the deserted road house and others. The wonderful realism of these scenes has served to astound all the people who have seen this great photoplay.

"The Spoilers" is really a remarkable production, so full of action and realistic scenes that it grips the audience and holds its undivided attention for two and a half hours. Starring is William Farnum, Kathlyn Williams, Thos. Santschi, Wheeler Oakman, Bessie [illegible] and other big stars.

Fanny Ward—Royal Today.

Fannie Ward, the beautiful Lasky-Paramount star, who created such a sensation in "The Cheat" some months ago, returns to the Paramount screen at the Royal today in the filmization of that stirring drama released on the Paramount programme, "The Gutter Magdalene," written especially for her by Clinton H. Stagg from the story by Willard Mack.

In "A Gutter Magdalene" Miss Ward is seen as Maida, a young country girl, who succumbs to the wild wooing of Jack Morgan, a notorious crook. She runs away with him only to find that he cannot marry her. She tries to leave him but Morgan rules her by force and she has to assist in the robbery of Steve Boyce, a young Westerner who has come to New York to secure the forty thousand dollars as first payment of a railroad right of way in the Wyoming mountains.

In "A Gutter Magdalene" the spectator's interest is quickly aroused and held ably sustained throughout. It abounds in situations of great intensity which gain in effect by being probable and logical. It is a throbbing story with a theme portraying a woman's triumph and redemption and Miss Ward equals her best achievements in the skill of her work in this production.

Treat at Grand Today.

Ah! What a treat in store for patrons of the most comfortable spot in the city during this hot weather—the Grand Theatre—today. The Grand is always comfortable no matter how torrid is the outside atmosphere, every bit of air in the theatre being changed every two minutes through the ventilation system of exhaust fans.

A great five-reel bill today is headed by the fifth great chapter of that rousing serial photoplay, "The Secret of the Submarine." Did you see it last week? Well, if you didn't you missed one of the best two reels of motion picture thrills you ever saw. Talk about punches, thrills and surprises, the "Secret of the Submarine" has 'em all beat to a frazzle. It's right there from both ends and the middle. The chapter to be presented today is absolutely unrivalled when it comes to high tensioned thrills, and it is absolutely guaranteed to give satisfaction—and more.

Another big treat—Bryant Washburn is co-star with beautiful Nell Craig in a charming two-reel Essanay romantic drama, "The Danger of Being Lonesome." It is, too, a problem drama and there is no mistaking the forces with which it drives home its lesson and the interest aroused by its theme.

And still another—a rousing comedy feature, "The Heart Wrecker," starring beautiful Edythe Roberts as the "heart wrecker," an Imp comedy de luxe.

Now isn't that one of the biggest bills you ever saw for five cents?

"Tom and Jerry"—Bijou Today.

"Tom and Jerry—They're Funny." That's the slogan, for the Bijou today presents the first chapter of the first big comedy series ever filmed, ten weeks of laughs, two reels a week, with an all-star cast of eight of the greatest comedy stars of all filmdom—the first absolutely all-star comedy picture ever presented, and the first comedy serial ever presented.

It was a wise man that noted the trend of the times and produced the first comedy serial, and Bijou patrons will be lucky in seeing it ahead of any other city in North Carolina, and they were only released last week, and the management scooped it up by wire, quick. So don't miss their initial appearance at the Bijou today—two reels of laughs.

Just imagine Mary Fuller—"Our Mary"—as a crook. That's the role she plays in that startling two reel Victor drama, "The Scarlet Mark," at the Bijou today. But since the plot hinges on her close resemblance to a wealthy society girl, you will also see Mary as her own self. This is a punch and a surprise drama par excellence. You think you know what is going to happen, and you always get fooled. For a dual role drama, with some of the finest double exposure work ever shown on the screen, this picture takes the bun and the whole bloomin' bake shop.

A great Joker scream brings today's all-star bill up to five great reels. It's title is "The Fall of Deacon Stillwater," and it stars William Franey and Gale Henry.

FANNIE WARD.
Beautiful Paramount Star at the Royal Today in "The Gutter Magdalene."

KATHLYN WILLIAMS
Star with William Farnum and Wheeler Oakman in "The Spoilers," the Reel Spectacle at the Royal Tomorrow.

100 TEACHERS ENROLLED

Most Largely Attended Institute Ever Held in Duplin County—Meeting July 20.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., July 11.—The most largely attended institute ever held in the county convened at Kenansville Monday with Prof. E. H. Moser, of Wake county, conductor, and Miss Mary Arrington, assistant.

The exercises were opened by Superintendent M. H. Wooten with a reading and prayer.

The registration showed a total of a hundred teachers, every township in the county being represented, notwithstanding that a large number of the teachers of the county are attending summer schools at the universities and colleges of this and other states.

On Thursday of next week, July 20, there will be a joint meeting of the teachers and committeemen of the county. It is urgently desired that all who can, especially the teachers and committeemen, will be present, as subjects relating to the betterment of school conditions will be discussed. Among the most important of these will be "How the Teachers and Schools Can Best Promote Community Interest," and "How Special Taxes Best Meet Our Educational Requirements."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 11.—The North Carolina Jewelers' Association will meet here Thursday and Friday of this week. Messrs. R. C. Bernau and A. Schiffman, the well known local jewelers, are on the entertainment committee and are getting everything in readiness to give the visitors a good time. The State Optical Association is meeting today and tomorrow in High Point, and many attending that meeting will come here for the Jewelers' convention. The programme for the convention here has many interesting addresses and features.

SAM STOCKS A SMALL ISSUE IN LENOIR LYNCHING CASE

Men Higher Up to be Brought Into Investigation, Says Solicitor.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 11. — Solicitor H. E. Shaw, prosecutor for this judicial district, states that he can not say whether the case of Samuel Stocks, alleged lyncher, will be ready for trial at the next term of Duplin county Superior court or not. Judge Bond Saturday ordered Stocks tried in Duplin. The grand jury must pass on the evidence and some other details attended to.

There was called to the attention of Colonel Shaw yesterday an opinion expressed in street gossip that the State would rest the investigation into the lynching of Joseph Black until after the trial of Stocks in Duplin county in the week beginning July 24, or later, and that if the latter should be cleared by a Duplin jury the whole matter would be dropped. The solicitor stated that such would not be the case. Stocks is a small issue in the matter, he intimated. Men higher up are to be brought into the investigation. He would not predict when further action toward completing the investigation would be taken.

Sam Stocks, the only alleged lyncher now under indictment, is at his home in the Maury section of Greene county, with 41 prominent Lenoir county men, representing a total wealth of about $1,500,000 on his bail. Other would-be signers who have telephoned the clerk of the court that they would like to add their signatures have been informed that the bond was completed Saturday and the prisoner released. The clerk evidently discouraged superfluous signatures.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Now that the controversy between the Tidewater Power Company and their employees has been satisfactorily adjusted, I desire to thank every citizen who promptly heeded my call for Deputies for the purpose of maintaining law and order in our community. I studiously avoided calling anyone directly connected with either side of the controversy so that we might all be non-partisan and have in view simply the preservation of law and order. As a Peace Officer, I have tried to do my full duty, as I saw it, and am thankful that an adjustment of the controversy has been reached without injury to persons or property. The military companies were ordered here by the Governor, at the request of those in authority, and came here for the purpose only of aiding in the strict enforcement of law and order.

Cucumbers for Sunburn

CUCUMBERS are very soothing to the skin in hot weather when sunburn and freckles assail. To make a cucumber lotion mix together and stand overnight three tablespoonfuls of cucumber juice and three of alcohol; add slowly the next day, one tablespoonful of oil of almonds and ten drops of benzoin. Cucumber water is made by cutting up three large cucumbers, skin and all, and steeping in half a cup of water over a slow fire until the pulp is soft. Then strain.

The thermos bottle has well-nigh driven the water cooler out of business.

Playhouses for Grown-Ups

"Cabins" Are Now Being Built for Entertaining House Parties and Enjoying the Pastoral Life.

HAVE you been invited to a cabin-party? What, no! Then let me explain. The cabin-party is one of the newest of the diversions of the rich and the near-rich.

The cabin itself is built as a playhouse pure and simple. Its location is usually in a rather wild part of the grounds of some country place. The fact that that same country place boasts a great mansion with two-score rooms in it which may be used for any desired purpose does not render the cabin superfluous at all. In the cabin you get near to nature's heart. You use it as Marie Antoinette used the Petit Trianon to play at milkmaid, to wear a fetching apron, to perform various dainty household duties.

By describing one such cabin a fair idea of all may perhaps be obtained.

The cabin referred to was built by a very rich man in the woods on his big estate in Maryland. It is made of great gray stones, artistically put together, and you enter it through a rustic porch and a great doorway. From the latter you step immediately into the living room. The living room which has a beamed ceiling and rough walls is about 100 feet long and forty wide, and its most striking and important feature is a great deep fireplace right in the center of the back wall.

This fireplace is set apart from other deep fireplaces by its cooking equipment. It has cranes on which hang an enormous iron pot and a kettle; there are long-handled frying pans to hand, iron shelves are placed at the sides for warming plates and other dishes, and a broiler swings over the fire.

On one side of the fireplace the living room is used as a dining room. Here extends a long wooden table capable of seating twenty persons, and instead of chairs for it there are wooden benches.

There are also dressers at this end of the room filled with plain china and shining pewter and aluminum. A sink is near at hand with the washing-up things hanging about it.

The other end of this great apartment is the living room proper, fitted with book-filled cases, easy chairs, a couch, several card tables and the "bar."

The "bar" holds the equipment for cooling drinks.

On the right of the fireplace a door leads into the woman's quarters which consist of a large room fitted with eight bunks, built in like those of a sleeping car, and of a bathroom. On the left are similar rooms intended for the men.

On the second floor reached by an open-air staircase built on the side of the house, is a great loft which is used for dances or for games which cannot be played down-stairs.

At this cabin the owner holds his week-end parties, inviting only those people whom he knows well and who he is sure will enjoy the pastoral pleasures of the place. For no servants are admitted to the cabin. The sign over the door might read: "Let all who enter here leave sloth behind," since each guest is expected to do his share of the work. And there is a good deal of it to do. The visitors make the butter which they eat, from cream brought over from the great house; they make the ice-cream which is their dessert. They do their own cooking; they wash their own dishes, they make their own beds.

And never a guest who takes part in these revels but declares that the things he eats at the cabin are the most delicious things in the world.

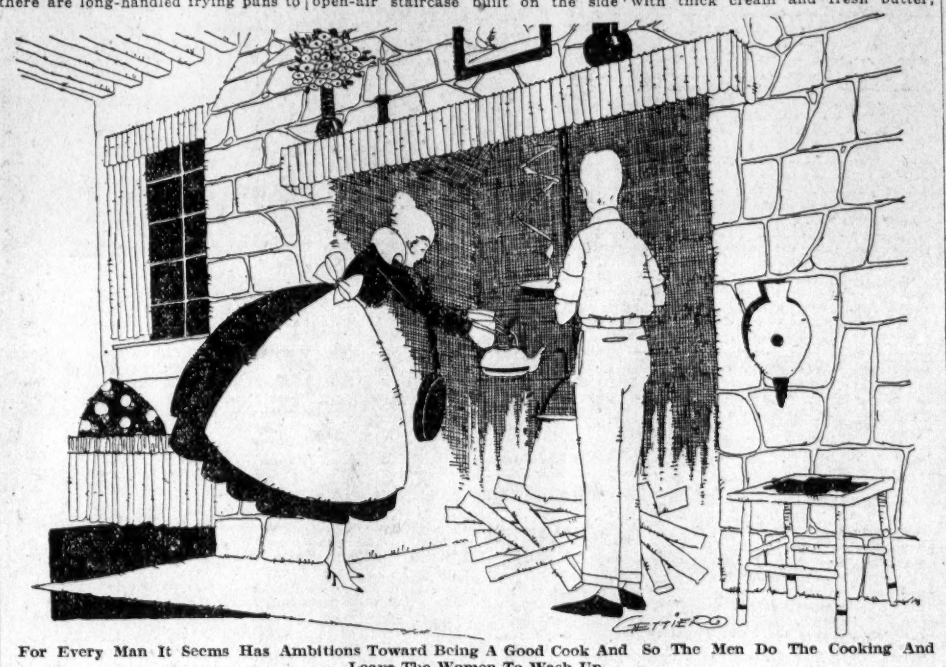
The men do the cooking. They broil thin slices of Smithfield ham over the great flames; they scramble eggs in one of the long-handled saucepans, mixing ones fresh from the nest with thick cream and fresh butter; they broil lamb chops; they even bake waffles.

For dinner there are chickens roasted on a spit; or chickens fried to a turn; and vegetables, right from the garden, prepared by wonderfully skillful hands considering that they are those of banker, broker, editor, rather than of chef.

For every man it seems has ambitions toward being a good cook and so the men do the cooking and leave the women to wash up.

And the women, delicate creatures who at home scarcely exert themselves to hem a linen handkerchief, as the saying is, scrub away at pots and pans with rare good humor and enjoy every minute of the time, and eat with greater appetite than when surrounded by all the luxuries.

The cabin is growing in favor. It is springing up on every hand wherever it can be afforded. It has taken the place of the playhouse which used to be built for children, for the grown-ups require much more amusement than do youngsters now, as everyone knows.



For Every Man It Seems Has Ambitions Toward Being A Good Cook And So The Men Do The Cooking And Leave The Women To Wash Up.

To Care for the White Toilette

THIS summer it is freely predicted that white will be worn more even than in other warm seasons. The reasons are not far to seek, the most important of these being the difficulty now experienced in getting dyes that stay dyed, so to speak. The gowns of summer must go to the laundry tubs frequently, and if within them they lose their erstwhile delicate tints, then indeed will they prove an expensive luxury.

Moreover white is universally becoming to the wearer and cool and grateful to the observer when sizzling days come. Therefore it is natural and proper that it should be popular.

The white toilette has but one objection and that is that it needs constant supervision to keep it in order. One wise young woman keeps her articles of apparel always ready to wear in the following manner: When she takes off a pair of white shoes she inspects them to see whether they are immaculate, and if they are not she cleans them carefully before putting them away. She follows the same procedure with her white gloves, mending and washing them when she takes them off.

Her white hats she keeps clean by rubbing any soiled spots with cornmeal, and soiled gowns, skirts or blouses are placed at once in the laundry basket and are not hung away in the closet on the chance that they may possibly be worn once again, and so are forgotten on blue Monday.

This girl, then, never experiences the shock which ensues upon taking out a pair of shoes to put on in a hurry and finding them soiled and discolored with grass stains; and she has always to hand fresh gloves, fresh stockings, fresh veils, fresh gowns.

She has also demonstrated to her own entire satisfaction the fact that a thin frock which is rumpled and so looks soiled may often be renovated to a state of perfection by dampening it with thin starch water and pressing with a hot iron; a simple task which she performs swiftly with an electric iron after each wearing of an elaborate cotton frock.

THE YOUNG HOUSEKEEPER SAYS

THAT with sugar at its present price it is doubtful whether much preserving will be done this season for preserves are, after all, a luxury rather than a necessity. They are nice for use in the children's school lunch, she thinks, and for the home luncheon also, but if left out of the menu entirely they will not be greatly missed.

The nicest kettle to use in preserving is the porcelain lined one; the nicest spoon a wooden one. Bottles, glasses and jars must be sterilized in scalding water before the new contents are placed in them, and new rubbers must be used each season. Fill each vessel full to overflowing, keeping a silver spoon in it while filling it with the scalding preserves. Keep the filled jars in a cool, dark place. Use paraffine over the tumblers of jelly, melting it and pouring over the day after these goodies have been placed in their receptacles.

A good general rule for making jelly and one which never fails, she says, is the following: Pick over the fruit, wash and drain. Put a layer in the bottom of a preserving kettle and mash, using a wooden potato masher, and so continue until all of the berries are used. Cook slowly, strain through a coarse strainer, then allow juice to drop through a double thickness of cheesecloth or a jelly-bag. Measure, bring to the boiling-point and boil five minutes; add an equal measure of sugar which has been heated in the oven, boil three minutes, skim and pour into glasses. Place in a sunny window and let stand twenty-four hours before covering.

Currant jelly should be made this week for currants are now at their best. They should not be picked directly after a rain. A combination of currants and raspberries makes a delicious jelly, using equal quantities of the two fruits.

Grape jelly, made from either the green or the ripe fruit, is delicious to serve with meats or for making cake.

For raspberry jam, pick over the berries and mash a few in the bottom of a preserving kettle, using a wooden potato masher. Do this until all of the fruit is used. Heat slowly to the boiling point and add gradually an equal quantity of heated sugar. Cook slowly forty-five minutes. Put in a stone jar or tumblers.

Blackberry jam, perhaps the best of the species, is made in the same way.

For peach preserve peel the peaches. For three pounds of fruit use the same amount of sugar and one pint of water. When the syrup is hot drop in the fruit, a few peaches at a time. Remove into jars when done and before filling the jars with hot syrup add either a tablespoonful of brandy or of good vinegar to each jar.

Always use a silver knife in peeling peaches.

SEASONABLE JOTTINGS

MANY foot troubles have resulted, it is said, from the abrupt change which women make from high-heeled shoes into the low-heeled ones intended for sports wear. The manufacturers have been endeavoring to remedy this by making a sport shoe which will have a fair arch and a rationally low-heel; one which will not throw the foot too far forward into the toes of the shoes.

The old-time Colonial shoe with a tongue and a buckle is once more smart.

White is combined with many colors in the more modish of the sport shoes. African brown, the taupe shades, biscuit, beige, and chamois are all used in the combinations.

It is a curious fact that in at least one town of this country there is not a pound of rose-colored wool to be had for making sweaters. Rose is the favorite shade for this work, it seems, and also one of the hardest for the American dyer to produce, hence this dreadful contretemps.

Streamers, those coquettish adjuncts for the young girl, are found on summer hats.

Much lace is being used in the making of mid-summer frocks.

This is the season at which the fresh-faced girl looks her prettiest. Gowned in white, the transparent brim of her hat allowing the pink of her parasol to cast a rosy glow upon her cheeks, she is as dainty a little person as you could find in a week's journey.

What has become of the old-fashioned tin water cooler that once disgraced every home and all of the public buildings of this country. It is now seen no more. When there is a water cooler at all it is often of cool and clean-looking blue and white pottery, which is both decorative and sanitary.

THE FIRST OF THE MONTH

THE other evening I dozed in my easy chair, and a strange thing happened. It was deucedly to the point, too, and that perhaps is the real reason why it made such an impression upon me.

I had been trying to summon enough will-power to lay aside my magazine and to write a letter which should have been written long before.

The last thing I remember before floating off into the land of Nod was that I glanced groggily at the calendar hanging above my desk. I seemed to be confusedly trying to convince myself that the morrow wasn't the first day of the new month—though in my waking moments I knew all too well that it was. And then—then—

"It's the First, all right! It's the First!" chuckled a Voice right by my elbow. "There's no getting around it!"

Startled, I looked down—I'm quite certain I opened at least one eye. At all events, I saw as plainly as I can see my pay envelope when it's handed to me on the First, an Imp, or Devil, or Presence, or Gnome or—I think I prefer to call the thing a Kill-Joy—well, anyway, I saw the thing from which the Voice had come.

Now, I never have been good at remembering faces; moreover, I may have imbibed a bit too freely during the evening of a comforting toddy I had on my smoking stand. So I'm afraid I'll have to forego any description of this—er—a—this Kill-Joy. I can say, though, that his face made me think of a big potato with two eyes, and he had a moustache that would have delighted the heart of an amateur detective. The toddy, please remember, was rather stiff. And we'll let it go at that.

"It's got you going, too, hasn't it?" laughed the Kill-Joy in a tone which made me want to grab him and peel him right then and there. "I tell you, old scout, if it wasn't for this First of the Month business we'd all be—"

"Who are you?" I demanded.

He grinned. "Oh, I'm merely the guy that put the First in each month. You think you know all about how our calendar was made. But let me tell you that I'm the lad who stuck in the First, so I could have the fun of watching poor mortals struggle with their bills then. Great sport, too!"

I regarded him icily.

"You don't believe it huh? Well, old sockdolager, take a squint at what I have to show you and see if I'm right—It'll be like going to the movies!"

With that he waved something or other in the air—it seemed to be my walking stick which I'd deposited in the corner as usual; but I suppose it must have been some kind of a Magic Wand. At all events, the talking machine and my row of favorite books suddenly faded from view and in their place sprang up a sheet on which, presently, I was amazed to see figures moving about; also, I could hear every word they said.

One after another these pictures were reeled off before my astonished gaze. I remember that the letters THE FIRST DAY OF THE MONTH flashed on the screen for a moment; and then I beheld a man and a woman seated at their living room table.

They didn't seem to be in an amiable mood at all. She had pencil and paper before her and she was chewing the end of the pencil. He was similarly equipped, but seemed to be chiefly concerned with running his hands through his hair and shaking his finger at her. I then knew, of course, that they were married.

"I tell you I cut everything down to the bone, John!" the woman declared in a hard tone. "I can get a dollar's worth of groceries for a dollar—but I can't get two dollar's worth!"

"Is that so!" the man retorted. "Is that so! Well just let me tell you that money doesn't grow on trees and—and here the bill this month is two-twenty-nine more than it was last month! The trouble with you, Irene, is that you don't manage! I work like a dog and when the First of the month comes around what have I got to show for it? Nothing but a pile of bills—bills—bills—bills! Why, do you know how much I had to spend for myself this month? Exactly four dollars and thirty-five cents!"

The woman shook her head wearily and spoke in a voice of withering sarcasm. "And I bought two ice cream sodas for myself, John—which I suppose I shouldn't have done!"

The Kill-Joy chuckled and glanced at me for approval. Then he waved that darn old stick of his and another film flashed upon the screen.

This time, too, they were married; only, the woman was light and the man dark, and she was half-smiling, half-frowning in a bored, superior sort of way. The man wasn't angry—he didn't dare to be. He merely looked worried, harrassed, anxious to please, yet hoping to do so at the least cost.

"Really, my dear," said the woman—and there was a peculiarly scornful accent upon her term of endearment—"really, you know, it's simply impossible to expect a woman to get along on less. I never had to economize until I married you and—"

"But I can earn only so much—dearest—," he gulped a bit at the word. "And I bring home every penny I do make and—and you have no idea how I economize and sacrifice to give you the things you want—and still I find on the First of the Month that we're running way behind, and—"

"Why don't you make more—other men do!" demanded the woman sharply. "It isn't right for a man to marry a girl and then expect her to deny herself everything to—pshaw! If you were half a man you'd be ashamed to let your wife struggle along the way I have to. You'd hustle the way other men do and—and—why, you owe it to me, William!"

The picture flashed out and I heard a chuckle close beside me. "There's a lot of them like her!" the Kill-Joy exclaimed. Then he waved his wand again.

Another couple. The man was lounging back in an easy chair; the woman, pencil in hand, was leaning earnestly toward him.

"Don't you think, Bob, you could be a little more careful this month?" she pleaded. "Here—see—I've worked it all out to the penny. And if we'll only follow that arrangement we'll be in much better shape when the first of next month comes. I don't take a cent for myself, outside of carfare, and—"

"Gee whiz, Alice, a chap's got to keep up his end!" the man objected, in much the tone of a spoiled child. "It's half of the game these days. There's such a thing as being penny-wise and pound-foolish, you know. And when the other fellows ask me to lunch or offer a cigar or a drink, why, I've got to be there with the come-back, haven't I! Besides, I'm getting tired of your trying to keep tab on every penny I spend! I earn the money, don't I? And I guess I'm entitled to spend it as I—"

"There's also a lot of them just like him," whispered the Kill-Joy. And he laughed softly, though I'm blest if I saw anything to laugh at.

"One more picture appeared. Of course it was a man and his wife and the First of the Month. They, too, were busy with pencils and paper, at the living room table. Also, there was a small pile of bills in front of the woman—one's and five's and a single yellow-back ten-spot. Evidently the man had brought home his month's salary in bills of small denominations, and spread it out before the beloved of his heart for her counsel and approval in spending it. He looked happy, too, in the task.

"Now this ten and these three fives will pay the grocery bill," she said, picking up four of the bills and placing them in a pile to her right.

"Only twenty-five?" asked the man with surprise. "How in the world did you ever hold down to that amount—some manager, old girl, some manager I tell you!"

She gave him a pleased smile and consulted the next item. "This will be for the rent," she said in an adorably business-like fashion. "And this"—making another little pile of bills on the table—"will pay the bills at both the instalment houses. Now—now—why, Jack, I believe we're going to be able to put forty dollars in bank this month—think of it!"

"Really? Fine! But I don't quite see how you can make it, my dear—I'd estimated it's be only about thirty-five and—"

The Kill-Joy beside me began to laugh and laugh and laugh! It made me mad.

"Hey!" I shouted. "What the devil are you laughing at?"

He clutched his sides and bent over double, laughing like a fool. Finally, gasping for breath, he straightened up.

"You just wait," he chuckled fiendishly. "Look's pretty soft for them now, doesn't it? But I've got it all fixed! Just wait until the First of Next Month hits them. She's going to run up a twenty-dollar doctor's bill between now and then; and he's going to lose one hundred plunks by—"

I drew back my fist and let fly at him.

Bing!

I woke up.

Also, I had bruised my fist severely on the arm of the chair.

"Are you awake at last, Tom?" called my wife from the next room. "If you are, don't you think you'd better write that letter? The man was really unpleasant this afternoon—"

"All right," I growled, rubbing my eyes and gathering my scattered wits.

I seized my pen and wrote:

Stingem Credit Company:

Gentlemen:—I am aware that I am two months behind in my instalments, but the best I can do is to enclose you a check for five dollars. If you don't like this you can lump it—or, better still, come and take the furniture, if you can find any pieces of it still intact. Also, if you send that collector up to my house again I'll break his neck. And I wish to add that—

But there's no need to continue; perhaps you can imagine what I wrote.

"Spread it out thin, dear," called my wife. "Better pay a little on each bill than any one in full and—"

Darn this First of the Month anyway! There may not really be such an Imp as the Kill-Joy of my dream. It sure does seem that way!

Don't you think so?

"Is that so!" the man retorted. "Is that so!"

LITTLE FABLES OF THE BUSINESS WORLD

Saving Up for a Vacation

THERE was once a certain Young Man who Looked Forward to a Fine Vacation and figured that said Looking would be muchly Improved if in the meantime he stuck a little Coin away in a Sock.

And there was another Young Man who also Gazed Ahead at a Two-Weeks-Off-With-Pay; but he couldn't see the business of Sock and Coin at all.

Both of them went on a Vacation—and thereby hangs a Tale which, mayhap, offers Food for the Brain.

Number One was a Methodical Cuss. He had a Bank-Book and he didn't Lose it under the Pile of Ties in his Top Bureau-Drawer. In fact, he took it out with Pleasing Regularity and carried it to the Bank where the Poor Slave inside the Cage wrote down Figures in it in return for sundry Coins and Bills therewith handed him.

"I'll just Stick Away all the odd Dimes I get and a few Dollar Bills, now and then," said this Hombre to himself, "and then when my Vacation comes along I'll be There with the Kale for a Grand Splurge!" So, he set himself Valiantly to the Task.

Number Two was a Careless Lad. Vacation-Time meant more to him than Christmas or the Opening Game. He began to Live with the very First Day of his Two-Weeks-Off and he darn near Died with the Last of them.

Meet him any other Time of the Year and you instantly Knew him for what he was; but Run Into him when he was On Leave and you'd be mighty apt to mistake him for the Millionaire Kid. He threw his Money around just That Careless—as long as it lasted.

He longed to be like Chap Number One and Save Up for a Grand Fling, but somehow he couldn't seem to Put it Across. Each year he had Vowed the next would find him with a Few Hundred Iron Men nestling snugly behind the Receiving Teller's window, all ready and waiting to be Drawn Out and scattered up and down the Boardwalk. But when the Time came, there weren't any of them There. So, he would hike out for his Rest with only his Two Weeks' Salary in advance and he'd have to Skin Close on everything.

He had a Bank-Book and he Didn't Lose It.

Both of these Chaps worked in the same Office at very near the Same Stipend. In fact, Number Two dragged down a Bit More than did Number One; and that very fact kind of Got his Goat all the fiercer when he tried to find out why he couldn't Save and the other fellow Could.

A few days ago No. 1 was Feeling Good about having a Snug Sum in bank and was Blowing about it around the office. He gloated over all the Fancy Trimmin's his vacation this year would have On it. Indeed, No. 2 felt the fellow was Rubbing It In, since he hadn't had anything written in His Bank Book since goodness-knows-when and even Before that.

Only the day before Yesterday, however, No. One came to the Office with a Long Face. It was his own, and there was a Reason. Gone was his Bank-Account; gone his Nifty Vacation. He had a Balance of One Bean and thirty-four Centimes.

No, he hadn't been in any Quiet Little Game, and he hadn't Lost it or had it Swiped. One of the family, it seems, was Taken Sick and the Ultimatum had been given that an Operation was the Last Chance. Wherefor, said Savings were to be handed over to the Surgeon for about Twenty Minutes' work. Since no one else in the family had the Necessary Cash with which to Cross the Surgeon's palm and steady his Hand, he had to be the Goat.

Number Two was Sorry for him—of course! But he just couldn't help thinking, "Well, if he hadn't had that Cash in bank, they couldn't have Separated it from him. And look what he's Missed piling it up! Why, now, he hasn't Got a Thing on me—and just look at the Fun I've had Spending mine!"

A somewhat similar thought also Occurred to Number One; but he, being a Careful Cuss, added, "Oh, well, I guess I ought to be Glad I had it. It certainly does seem that Something's always Happening to set me back—just One Darn Thing after another—and I no sooner get a little Salted Away than—bing!—something or other Comes Along and It's All Off! If I hadn't Looked Forward to such a Bang-Up Vacation this year I wouldn't mind it so much but—"

Moral:—When you Save Up for a Vacation, take it Early—before Something Else can Cop the Coin!

SHARP BREAK IN COTTON

Prospects for Clear Weather in South Seemed to Have Inspired Offerings—Loss 2 to 7 Points.

New York, July 11.—Prospects for clearing weather in the South seemed to inspire increased offerings in the cotton market today and there was a sharp break in prices, October selling off to 12.85, the low point reached on the decline at the beginning of the month. The market steadied at this level and there were rallies of several points, October closing at 12.97 and with the general list closing steady at a net decline of from 2 to 7 points for the day.

The opening was steady at an advance of one point to a decline of 4 points, but there was very little support around the ring, and prices soon weakened under liquidation, local and Southern selling. Offerings became more active as prices eased off, the break carrying the active months about 15 to 16 points net lower during the middle of the day, with July selling at 12.70; December at 13.02, and January at 13.08. Offerings then tapered off and the market became less active, while prices rallied 1 to 11 points on scattered covering which may have been partly due to expectations of rather a bullish weekly report from the weather bureau at noon tomorrow.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, July 11. — Active selling on stop orders influenced by weakness in lard and cotton and improving weather in the southeast caused a violent break in cotton seed oil today, final prices showing 6 to 15 points net loss. Consuming trade and outside speculative interests were alike quiet and there was evidence of Southern selling. Old crops suffered most from liquidation. Sales, 18,700 barrels. Close, steady. Spot, 10.50 bid. January, 8.51@8.54; February, 8.52@8.62; July, 10.50@10.75; August, 10.41@10.43; September, 10.30@10.31; October, 9.42@9.44; November, 8.58@8.60; December, 8.50@8.53; sales, 18,300.

Hogs—No trading.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Nervous Fluctuations a Feature—Small Loss in the Market.

New Orleans, July 11.—Nervous fluctuations featured the trading in cotton here today. Around the opening there was a small rise, after which the market slumped only to recover late in the session. The close was steady at a net loss of one point.

Cables were better than due, more rains in the Atlantic sent early trading prices up 2 to 4 points. No great support was offered, however, and when shorts increased their offering prices quickly responded. Selling was stimulated chiefly by the forecast of fair weather for the eastern half of the cotton region. At the lowest the trading months were 12 points under yesterday's close.

In the afternoon reports of extensive flood damage in Alabama and severe boll weevil damage in Texas checked the downward movement. Expectations of an unfavorable weekly government report tomorrow was also a steadying influence late in the day and the market quickly recovered.

Closing bid: August 12.69; October 12.79; December 12.95; January 13.05; March 13.24.

Spot cotton quiet and unchanged. Sales on the spot 700 bales; to arrive 250 bales; middling 13.00.

WHEAT TURNS DOWN GRADE

Caused by Heavy Selling to Realize Profits After Advance on More Black Rust Damage.

Chicago, July 11. — Heavy selling to realize prots turned the wheat market down grade today, after an advance that was due to a decided broadening out of black rust complaints. The close was unsettled, ½ to ⅝c. net lower, with July at 1.07½ and September at 1.09⅝@1.09½.

Corn finished ¼c. off to a shade up, and oats gained ⅛@¼ to ⅜@½. In provisions the outcome was 15 to 40c. decline.

Closing:

Wheat — July, 1.07½; September, 1.09⅝.

Corn—July, 78; September, 74½.

Oats—July, 40¾; September, 40.

LOWER PRICES IN STOCKS

Further Enforced Liquidation on "War Brides" and Kindred Specialties. Break in Chemicals.

New York, July 11.—Further enforced liquidation of "war brides" and specialties of kindred description occurred today, the selling movement embracing all but a few special stocks whose losses were comparatively nominal. United States Industrial Alcohol, yesterday's sensationally weak future, repeated its low price of 107 1-2, but rallied to 114, and closed at 111 7-8, a net gain of 2 7-8.

American coal products added 11 points to its set back of the previous day, regaining about half, and General Chemical yielded six points on very few transactions. The break in these particular issues whose by-products enter into the manufacture of explosives was ascribed to the arrival of the German submarine, laden with dyestuffs and chemicals and to a weakened technical position. There was constant selling of the shipping issues, with declines of 3 to 5 1-2 points in United Fruit and Atlantic Gulf and West Indies while Mercantile Marine preferred helped to add to the depression of the final hour, with an extreme decline of 7 points.

Studebaker featured the motors, falling 7 1-2 points, with five for Maxwell and over three for Chandler. Mexicans reacted sharply on disturbing rumors from the Southern border, Petroleum losing four points, with two for American Smelting and Greene Cananea. Coppers and other metals were again subject to short selling.

Rails and investment stocks in general were more moderately depressed, losing a point or thereabouts, with as much for United States Steel. Bethlehem Steel's maximum loss of 7 1-2 points followed reports of damage by fire to one of the companies plants.

Yesterday's flurry in call loans was not repeated, the maximum rate being 5 per cent. with a free supply at 4 1-2 in the afternoon.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value $3,960,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

CARR ENDORSEMENTS IN GREGORY'S HANDS

Wilson Sends Big Batch Over to Department of Justice.

None for Any Other Man Mentioned for District Attorney—Godwin Predicts Appointment of Wilmington Man.

(Special Star Telegram).

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Between 25 and 50 letters bearing anywhere from five to 25 signatures endorsing J. O. Carr, of Wilmington, for district attorney were filed with Attorney General Gregory last night by President Wilson. The letters came over to the Department of Justice in one bundle. The Carr letters were the only ones received at the White House or the Department of Justice so far for any candidate for the place.

"You can quote me as saying," said Representative Godwin, "that I now believe that Mr. Carr will be named district attorney. I do not know this to be a fact, but I think that will be the ultimate outcome of the conroversy."

Notwithstanding all of the endorsements sent in for Mr. Carr, there are some people who still think the slate as originally planned will be carried out, that is, Mr. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, will be made district attorney, Marshall Dortch, of Goldsboro, appointed collector to succeed Bailey, and Joe Tayloe, clerk to the Finance committee, sent down to the State to succeed Marshall Dortch.

But, using common ordinary horse sense, it is not seen how this can be done. Had not the people got busy for Carr, there is not the slightest doubt that the above mentioned plan would have been carried out. There is little doubt that there would have been more job swapping, too. But, in view of the fact that practically every lawyer in the State has endorsed Mr. Carr and not a single one, so far as any one here has been able to learn, has said a word for Mr. Bailey, it is "kinder" puzzling to figure out how the powers that he will get by, in other words, make peace with the people down in the State. The outcome is being watched with interest by Carolinians here as well as "down home." P. R. A.

JUDGS CLARK MEMBER OF SUMMER LAW SCHOOL FACULTY

To Deliver Series of Five Weeks' Lectures at University.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Chapel Hill, N. C., July 11.—Judge Walter Clark, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, comes to the University on July 21 to deliver a course of lectures in the Summer Law School of the University. He will be here for five weeks, from July 21 to August 28. Judge Clark takes charge of two of Dean Lucius McGehee's courses—Real Property and Constitutional Law. The University considers itself fortunate to have Judge Clark as a member of the Summer Law School faculty.

The conference on topics pertaining to the high school opened here Monday, and will continue during the week. It is the purpose of this conference to analyze some of the many problems affecting the high schools of the State, to study some of the special conditions and to suggest means of enriching the work and making it more nearly serve the various communities. Monday's meetings were concerned with the relation of the high school to the college. Prof. L. A. Williams, of the University School of Education, gave an interesting talk on the topic, "What Ought the High School Do to Help the College?" Supt. C. L. Coon, of Wilson, discussed this subject from the other point of view. There was also an open discussion on the general theme, "How Can the High School and College Get Together?"

Professor Collier Cobb delivered an illustrated lecture last night in Gerrard Hall, his subject being "Shifting Sands." Professor Cobb has a great many fine views to make his subject vivid.

The chorus is going through special practices in preparation for the choral concert under the direction of Prof. Gustav Hagedern on Wednesday night. Four choral numbers of some difficulty will be given and there will be a number of solos. The programme is looked forward to as one of the treats of the summer school.

STRIKE IS BROKEN

Some Longshoremen Return to Work. Outsiders Fill Other Places.

Newport News, Va., July 11.—The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials today stated that the coastwise longshoremen's strike at this port has been complete broken. The strong cordon of guards thrown about the piers when the longshoremen quit was cut down to normal today.

Many of the strikers have returned to work, while the places of the others have been filled with negroes from the interior of the state. The longshoremen demanded an increase in pay.

STATE TROOPS ARE ON THEIR WAY HOME

Sheriff S. P. Cowan yesterday morning that he considered the presence of the troops no longer necessary, Judge W. P. Stacy immediately wired Governor Locke Craig, who issued orders for their removal.

Sheriff Makes Statement.

In this connection the following notice to the public, issued by Sheriff S. P. Cowan yesterday, stating that the military companies were ordered here by the Governor for the purpose of aiding in the strict enforcement of law an order, will be read with interest:

"Now that the controversy between the Tidewater Power Company and their employes has been satisfactorily adjusted, I desire to thank every citizen who promptly heeded my call for deputies for the purpose of maintaining law and order in our community. I studiously avoided summoning any one directly connected with either side of the controversy so that we might all be non-partisan and have in view simply the preservation of law and order. As a peace officer I have tried to do my full duty as I saw it and am thankful that an adjustment of the controversy has been reached without injury to persons or property. The military comapnies were ordered here by the Governor at the request of those in authority and came here for the purpose, only, of aiding in the strict enforcement of law and order."

TO DISCUSS PLANS TO EXPEDITE LEGISLATION

Democratic and Republican Leaders in Senate to Confer.

Propose to Adopt Measures to Rush the More Important Bills Through in Time for the Political Campaigns.

Washington, July 11.—Democratic and Republican leaders in the Senate will hold a conference tomorrow to discuss measures of expediting important legislation so that Congress may adjourn for the political campaign.

Republican senators in conference today appointed a special committee to confer with the Democrats on the subject. The Democratic steering committee also met, decided on a legislative programme and voted to hold the Senate in session nine hours daily until it is completed. The navy and army appropriation bills, the shipping, child labor and corrupt practices measures, and the $200,000,000 revenue bill were listed as the imperative legislation on the programme.

Conservation measures and probably the pending immigration bill probably also will be deferred until next session.

Every Democratic senator received tonight a written notice from Majority Leader Kern stating that the arrangement for daily sessions from 11 A. M. to 8 P. M. was "deemed necessary to the end that the business of the Senate may be expedited and concluded within a reasonable time."

The attitude of Republican senators today seemed to be against a filibuster on the shipping or revenue bills, although they are expected to oppose both measures vigorously.

Democratic members of the Finance committee began work on the House Revenue bill today. Some amendments are under consideration, one of them to eliminate the proposed copper tax. There also may be some readjustment of the income tax schedule, but it is declared there will be no reduction of the exemption limit.

EDWARD O. RIGHTOR IS WINNER IN HOT CONTEST OVER MAXWELL

Elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks at Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, July 11.—Edward O. Rightor, of New Orleans, was today elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks over Lloyd Maxwell, of Marshalltown, Ia., at the annual convention of the order in session here this week. The contest was declared by older members among the delegates to have been the hottest in the history of the organization. Boston was selected for next year's convention.

Other officers were elected as follows: Esteemed Leading Knight, Morris O'Dell, Camden, N. J.; Esteemed Loyal Knight, E. R. Ingersoll, Seattle, Wash.; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, James M. Stanley, Oakland, Cal.; Grand Secretary, Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Ia.; Grand Treasurer, Charles A. White, Chicago; Grand Tyler, Oliver Oklahoma City, Okla.; Grand Trustee, George Locke, Rogers, Ark.

While the delegates were wrestling with the election problem, the "lady Elks" enjoyed a luncheon at the Lyric theatre at noon, leaving shortly afterwards for a sightseeing motor trip through the parks, suburbs and Green Spring Valley.

The first of the big spectacular events of the Elks' Week was the floral automobile parade this evening.

Later there was a prize drill of uniformed delegations which was followed by a ball at the Fifth Regiment armory to the grand officers of the order.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TEACHERS.

Will be Held in Wilmington This Week. Subjects for Examination.

Examinations for teachers who desire to secure certificates will be held on Thursday, July 13th, for white teachers and on Friday, July 14th for colored teachers. The white teachers will meet in the Hemenway school building and the colored teachers in the Peabody building.

The subjects required are: Theory and Practice of Teaching, school law, spelling, drawing, reading, arithmetic, language and composition, grammar, geography, physiology, history, North Carolina history, U. S. history, civil government and agriculture.

The examinations for those wishing to enter the A. & M. college next fall will be held at the same place on Thursday, July 13th. Candidates will bring foolscap paper and pencils.

Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders, Says Doctor

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Power of Athletics

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Rundown People 200 Per Cent. Stronger in Two Weeks Time in Many Cases.

New York, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a well known specialist, who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from what you eat. But people often fail to get strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxuated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' tome. It is dispensed in this city by all druggists.

PENNSYLVANIA PROGRESSIVE COMMITTEE SPLIT IN TWAIN

However, Hughes is Endorsed and Roosevelt's Action Approved.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11. — Members of the Washington Party State committee, the official organization of the Progressive party in Pennsylvania, delegates to the Chicago convention of the Progressives and their alternates decided today after three hours debate, which at times became personal, not to organize the state committee. Charles E. Hughes was endorsed for President and the course of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in declining the Progressive nomination "for the good of the nation" was approved.

The vote on the motion not to organize was 23 to 21. Hughes was endorsed by a vote of 22 to 11, and the resolution endorsing the action of Colonel Roosevelt was adopted, with a few "noes."

The discussion was so animated that nothing was done regarding the Washington Party State ticket, which will stand unless its members withdraw.

The conference was dominated by William Flynn, National committeeman from Pennsylvania; Gifford Pinchot and others who favored the endorsement of Hughes, but who held different views ergarding the future of the Progressives.

Mr. Flynn was called on to make a statement of his reasons for believing that the State committee should be organized, and was heckled for more than an hour by members.

MANY HEIRS HAVE INTEREST.

Twenty-Nine of Them to Get Share of 388 Acres of Land.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., July 11.—Three hundred and eighty-eight acres of land lying eight miles east of this city is to be divided between 29 heirs of the late A. G. Ferrell, who died on June 30 last. The property had been in Mr. Ferrell's possession for the past 65 years. The deed to the property was filed before Perrin Busbee, clerk and master of court of equity of Wake county, in 1849, several years before Durham county was formed. Mr. Ferrell paid $1,233.90 for the land. Administrator Sorrell values it now at $5,000.

ACCEPTS CALL TO GREENSBORO

Rev. E. L. Folk Becomes Pastor of First Lutheran Church.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Greensboro, N. C., July 11.—Rev. E. L. Folk, of Pittsburg, Pa., has accepted a call to the First Lutheran church, of this city, and will assume the pastorate next Sunday. He comes highly recommended. He is a native of Virginia and has lived in that state the greater part of his life. He was in Winston-Salem two years and has been in Pittsburg only a short time. He succeeds Rev. J. E. Shenck, who resigned the pastorate a short time before his death last winter. Rev. F. B. Lingle, a theological student, has been the supply minister sector is the central point of the Russian advance. The Germans have brought up strong reinforcements and artillery to oppose the Russians who are now within 20 miles of Kovel. The defenses of this town are believed to be powerful. Fighting along this line is of a furious nature.

Teutons Put to Flight.

In southern Bukowina, Petrograd reports that considerable enemy forces have been put to flight northwest of Kimpolung. Vienna does not refer to the fighting in Bukowina and Galicia but asserts that Russian attacks near Sokuland, along the Stokhod, have been repulsed.

Up to July 10 the drive of General Brussiloff had resulted in the capture of 271,620 prisoners, it is officially announced.

The Italians have captured additional positions from the Austrians, particularly o nthe Pasubio front. Rome asserts that because of the Italian offensives in the Trentino several divisions of Austrian troops already on their way to the western front have been recalled.

DEUTSCHLAND'S SISTER SHIP IS EXPECTED AT RIO JANEIRO

German Chancellory, However, Has Received No Notification.

London, July 11.—A report that a sister ship to the German commercial submarine Deutschland will arrive at Rio Janeiro within ten days is contained in a dispatch from the Brazilian city from a correspondent of the Exchange Telegram Company.

Rio Janeiro, July 11.—The German chancellory here has not received any notification that a German submarine is on its way to Rio Janeiro, according to an announcement made today.
